Overview & Current Events

RGC Resources, Inc. (RGC) operates as a distributor and seller of natural gas to industrial, commercial, and residential customers through its subsidiaries: Roanoke Gas, Midstream, and Diversified Energy. Residential customers are the company's largest customer segment, accounting for ~58% of the total revenues, followed by commercial customers at 34%. The company operates in three segments: Gas Utility, the key revenue generator; Investment in Affiliates; and Parent & Other. The company was founded in 1883 and generates just under $100 million in annual revenue.

On May 1st, 2024, RGC Resources announced its Q2 2024 results. The company posted non-GAAP EPS of $0.63, missing the market's estimate by $0.02, and total revenues of $32.7 million, down 14% year over year.

The results include $1.2 million in earnings from the company's investment in Mountain Valley Pipeline, LLC (MVP), and better utility margins, although these were largely offset by inflationary costs. Investments in utility infrastructure at Roanoke Gas have enhanced system reliability and supported new customer connections, contributing to earnings growth. CEO Paul Nester commented, "A mild winter has led to lower revenues, and persistent inflationary cost pressures are challenging earnings. The mild weather aided the construction progress of the MVP during the quarter, and the MVP has filed for a final permit from FERC to allow gas flow in the next 30 days". Roanoke Gas is addressing increasing costs through a rate application with the State Corporation Commission, with new rates set for July 1, 2024, subject to refund. For the first six months of fiscal 2024, net income rose 19.4% to $11,463,382, or $1.14 per share, from $9,598,291, or $0.97 per share, driven primarily by earnings from the MVP investment.

RGC Resources is highly dependent on Roanoke Gas' natural gas distribution business, which accounts for more than 98% of the firm's total revenues. The continued demand for natural gas ensures that the company is stable with consistent financial performance over time. Although the net loss posted in fiscal 2022 may reflect otherwise, it is essential to consider the earnings and dividend growth posted by the company over time and that the current net loss is due to an impairment charge related to the Mountain Valley Pipeline.

The company is expected to continue its growth trajectory in the coming years owing to a strong demand for natural gas as it remains the cheapest heat source compared with electricity and fuel. However, it is also important to realize that the company operates in a highly regulated industry, and its topline remains highly dependent on gas costs, consumption patterns, and weather/economic conditions. The increase or decrease in gas prices is passed on to customers through the PGA mechanism, which means that sometimes regulators do not allow price increases.

Updated June 19th, 2024, by Yiannis Zourmpanos

Therefore, we have matched analysts' EPS estimate for 2024 at $1.14, but we revised the growth forecast to 6.0% to align with the company's long-term average, leading to our EPS estimate of $1.53 for 2029. In addition, the company will likely grow its dividends at a healthy pace, and we have assumed a dividend growth rate of 6.0% for the next five years.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	Now	2029
Avg. P/E	19.6	19.2	19.1	28.7	28.2	26.3	19.2	18.8	---	20.7	17.5	20.0
Avg. Yld.	3.7%	3.7%	3.5%	2.3%	2.3%	2.3%	2.8%	3.2%	3.7%	3.3%	4.0%	3.5%

RGC Resources is trading at a forward P/E of 17.5, slightly below its ten-year average of 19.4. We believe the higher multiple reflects the growth pathway for the company going forward. We have assumed a target P/E of 20.0 to value the company in 2029, leading to our five-year price target of $31.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2029
Payout	73%	71%	67%	67%	65%	61%	54%	61%	---	69%	70%	70%

RGC Resources has maintained a healthy payout ratio and has increased the dividends at a CAGR of 6.1% from 2018 to 2022. The company has continuously paid regularly scheduled cash dividends for the past 78 years and has increased dividend payments over the past 19 years. The company's consistently high payout ratio reflects the ability of RGC Resources, Inc. to generate sufficient cash flow in all business cycles. In addition, RGC Resources, Inc. would not be overly affected by a possible recession since gas is a utility product that is generally considered a necessity, especially in winter, which keeps the demand alive for the company despite the state of the economy.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

As a utility company operating in a highly regulated sector, RGC Resources has demonstrated mostly steady growth. Owing to natural gas demand and the company's extensive record of solid execution, we believe that RGC Resources will continue delivering value to shareholders through continued dividends and consistent profitability. Therefore, we maintain our buy rating premised upon the 12.0% annualized total returns for the medium-term, with the forecasted earnings-per-share growth of 6.0%, the 4.0% dividend yield, and a valuation tailwind.
