Overview & Current Events

Founded in 1941 by Sid Jacobson, MSC Industrial Direct (MSM) is one the largest direct marketers and distributors of metalworking and maintenance, repair, and operations (MRO) products in North America. The company has 6 customer fulfillment centers, 10 regional inventory centers and 38 warehouses. MSM is a $4.4 billion market cap company that employees over 7,000 people.

On January 11th, 2023, MSC Industrial acquired Buckeye Industrial Supply Co, an independent metalworking distributor, as well as Tru-Edge Grinding, a custom tool manufacturer. Combined, the two companies generated $28 million in revenue in 2022.

On June 25th, 2024, MSC announced its acquisition of ApTex, Inc., a production-oriented industrial distributor, and Premier Tool Grinding, Inc., a designer and manufacturer of carbide cutting tools The two companies generated more than $20 million in in 2023.

On October 11th, 2023, MSC Industrial Direct increased its quarterly dividend by 5% to $0.83 per share.

On July 2nd, 2024, MSM reported third quarter results. Net sales for the quarter came in at $979 million, a 7.1% year-over-year decline. Adjusted income from operations decreased 19.6% to $111.5 million. The adjusted operating margin was weaker than in the prior year, at 11.4% vs 13.1%. Adjusted net income decreased by 22.9% to $75.2 million and adjusted diluted EPS declined by 23.6% to $1.33 from $1.74 in the same prior year period.

Leadership reduced its FY outlook, now expecting adjusted operating margin to come in at 10.5% to 10.7% (from 12.0% to 12.8% previously) and (4.7)% to (4.3)% growth (from 0% to 5% prior) for 2024.

MSM has a 9-year EPS compound annual growth rate of 5.3%, and a 5-year average growth rate of 4.3%. We estimate that MSM can grow forward earnings at around 12%, partly due to its relative low point for 2024. The company has been able to regularly increase product prices, but is now experiencing margin weakness in FY2024. The company successfully completed the first chapter of its Mission Critical Program in fourth quarter 2023, and it grew over 500 basis points above the Industrial Production Index, improved adjusted operating margin by more than 200 basis points, and improved ROIC into the high teens since fourth quarter 2020. It has now announced chapter two of this program, aiming to outgrow the Industrial Production Index by at least 400 basis points, and margins of at least 20% through a business cycle. Longer term, the business aspires to achieve mid-teens operating margins and return on invested capital of 20%.

Additionally, the company states its current growth priorities include tuck-in acquisitions, such as the recent purchase of ApTex, Premier Tool Grinding, and Buckeye Industrial Supply Co., and share repurchases. The emergence of Amazon is a threat; however, MSM's business is difficult to replicate, and the company has done well over the last several years to keep this threat at bay.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	Now	2029
Avg. P/E	21.7	20.1	18	21.5	17	14.4	14.6	17.9	13.1	14.6	16.1	15.0
Avg. Yld.	1.5%	2.1%	2.5%	2.1%	2.6%	3.7%	4.4%	3.5%	3.8%	3.3%	4.2%	3.3%

Over the past ten and five years, shares of MSM have traded hands with an average P/E ratio of 17.3 and 14.9 times earnings, respectively. We credit this multiple to three basic items: a solid established business, a conservative balance sheet and a large family stake. MSM is effectively a third-generation company with the family owning about a fifth of the economic interest of MSM and having the majority of the voting power.

It is also worthwhile to note that MSM paid a special dividend in 2005, 2011, 2015 and 2020.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2029
Payout	34%	42%	46%	45%	44%	53%	67%	62%	49%	50%	57%	48%

MSM's competitive advantage stems from its superior scale and execution. The company has roughly 2.4 million SKUs and boasts a strong and quick order fulfillment rate. It is true that Amazon is a formidable threat, but thus far MSM has been able to ward off attacks through its niche market relationships. A greater threat to the business is the possibility of American manufacturing, especially metalworking, moving overseas; however, this seems less and less likely.

During the last recession MSM's performance was average, posting earnings-per-share of $3.04, $2.00, $2.37, and $3.43 for the fiscal years ending 2008, 2009, 2010 and 2011, respectively. Earnings are likely to be cyclical in the future, but the overall trend has been positive. As of the last quarterly report, long-term debt stood at $300 million against adjusted operating income of around $505 million.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

MSM is one of those companies that can easily slide under the radar unless you are directly involved in the supply chain. The general public does not see a strong brand fronting the business, so it can be difficult to conceptualize the company's competitive position. Yet due to MSM's scale, dependability, and niche relationships, the company has developed a consistent profit machine. Total returns going forward are estimated at 13.6%, which stem from the 4.2% dividend yield, 12.0% earnings-per-share growth and a -1.4% negative impact from valuation contraction. We rate MSC Industrial Direct as a buy at the current price.
