Overview & Current Events

National Health Investors is a REIT focused on healthcare facilities. Some of the healthcare facilities NHI invests in are independent living facilities, senior-living campuses, and medical office buildings. NHI specializes in sale-leaseback, joint-venture, mortgage, and mezzanine financing. The company was incorporated in 1991 and is headquartered in Tennessee. National Health Investors raised its dividend for 19 years, but then slashed it in 2021. This healthcare facility REIT has a market capitalization of $3.2 billion.

As of June 30th, 2024, NHI had investments in 95 senior housing communities, 65 skilled nursing facilities, and one hospital across 31 states. During 2023, rental income was $249 million and made up 78% of income.

On August 6th, 2024, National Health Investors reported second quarter 2024 results. Normalized FFO per diluted common share for the quarter increased by 11.3% from the prior year quarter to $1.18.

During the quarter, National Health acquired a $32 million 110-unit assisted living facility in Sussex, Wisconsin, from Encore Senior Living. It also sold two assisted living communities in Louisiana for net proceeds of roughly $4.7 million.

National Health Investors raised its 2024 guidance again, now expecting normalized FFO per share of $4.52 to $4.56 (from $4.37 to $4.43 previously) for the full year.

Growth on a Per-Share Basis

Year	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2029
AFFOPS	$3.75	$4.10	$4.39	$4.75	$5.04	$5.10	$5.29	$4.60	$4.30	$4.33	$4.52	$5.24
DPS	$3.08	$3.40	$3.60	$3.80	$4.00	$4.20	$4.41	$4.01	$3.60	$3.60	$3.60	$3.97
Shares²	33.4	37.6	39.2	41.2	42.1	43.7	44.7	45.7	43.4	43.4	43.5	50.0

National Health Investors has been able to generate a stream of fairly predictable and consistent adjusted funds from operations (AFFO) until 2021. Since 2014, AFFO has grown by 1.6% annually, but this has turned negative in recent years, resulting in a 5-year AFFO growth rate of -3.0%.

Increased investment activity, such as financing or purchasing more healthcare real estate, along with increased collections and occupancies, should see NHI continue to grow. We are forecasting 3.0% average annual AFFO growth over the intermediate term.

Shares outstanding have increased by 3% annually over the last decade, which is typical for a REIT, but makes it more difficult to grow AFFO on a per-share basis.

The corporation will pursue acquisitions and diversify opportunistically, with the main focus on triple-net senior housing and skilled nursing. The company expects to further diversify across asset, tenant, and geography. In 2024, NHI is expecting 25% to 30% NOI growth of its senior housing operating portfolio, reflecting an improvement in occupancy and margins.

Updated August 11th, 2024 by Quinn Mohammed

National Health has paid special dividends a few times in the past, most recently in 2011 and 2013. Following the dividend cut in 2021, we forecast that NHI will potentially resume growing the dividend at 2% to maintain flexibility in the following years.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	Now	2029
Avg. P/AFFO	16.6	15.8	16.2	16.0	14.4	15.7	12.1	14.0	13.5	12.2	16.4	13.5
Avg. Yld.	4.8%	5.0%	4.9%	4.8%	5.4%	5.1%	6.6%	6.4%	6.1%	6.8%	4.9%	5.6%

National Health Investors has traded at a P/AFFO ratio of 14.6 on average over the last ten years, and 13.5 over the last five years. While shares trade at 16.4 times forecasted 2024 AFFO, we peg fair value at 13.5 times AFFO, which could lead to a -3.8% annual decline to total returns due to valuation contraction.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Payout	82%	83%	82%	80%	79%	82%	83%	87%	84%	83%	80%	76%

While NHI does not have a strong competitive advantage over other healthcare REITs, the corporation believes that it has an advantage in accessing debt markets due to a strong balance sheet. The company is diversified across tenant, geography and asset type which is also advantageous. During the great recession, share price did not fall as much as the overall market, and in fact, FFO per share grew from 2008 to 2010.

The company’s target leverage ratio is 4.0X to 5.0X net debt to adjusted annualized EBITDA. At the end of Q2 2024, NHI’s leverage ratio was 4.2X, on the lower end of the company’s target range. While the payout ratio appeared to be stable in the last few years, NHI still opted to preemptively slash the dividend in 2021, thus we would not rely on it to consistently grow the dividend from here on out.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

While National Health Investors has a history of performing well, weak occupancy and problems with specific, large partners led the company to sell a meaningful portion of its properties in the last couple years. National Health trades above our estimate of fair value, and has expected annualized total returns of 4.0%, the majority of which come from the 4.9% yield. NHI thus maintains its hold rating.
