McGrath RentCorp is a leading business-to-business rental and sales company that provides portable buildings for use as classrooms, office space and places to test electronic equipment. The company's products can also be used as secure storage for both hazardous and non-hazardous materials, restrooms, health care and child care facilities. Many of McGrath's portable buildings are used to meet a variety of demands and can be moved easily from location to location. The company completed the divestiture of its Adler Tanks during the first quarter of 2023.

On September 26th, 2024, it was announced that the previously agreement for McGrath RentCorp to be purchased by WillScot Mobile Mini (WSC) was terminated.

On October 24th, 2024, McGrath RentCorp reported third quarter results for the period ending September 30th, 2024. For the quarter, revenue grew 9.6% to $266.8 million, beating estimates by $39 million. Earnings-per-share totaled $6.08, but this included a termination payment from WillScot Mobile Mini of $180 million. Excluding this, earnings-per-share totaled $1.87, which compared favorably to $1.65 in the prior year.

For the quarter, rental revenues grew 1% to $124.2 million. Rental revenues for Mobile Modular, the company's largest division, increased 9% to $81.5 million due to higher delivery and pickup activities along with an increase in demand for new equipment. TRS-RenTelco rental revenues declined 10% to $25.7 million due to weaker demand from end markets that lowered demand for equipment rentals. Portable Storage revenue was down 11% to $17.0 million.

We estimate that the company will earn $4.79 per share in 2024. This does not include the termination payment from WillScot Mobile Mini in Q3.

McGrath RentCorp has experienced volatility in its earnings-per-share over the past decade. Earnings-per-share dropped almost 19% in 2009 and it was not until 2011 that earnings recovered above 2008's total. The company's earnings grew at 11.4% annually over the last decade, but this slows to just 4% when looking at the last five years. We are expecting earnings-per-share to grow at a rate of 4% per year through 2029, up from 3% previously.

On February 21st, 2024, McGrath RentCorp announced that it was raising its quarterly dividend 2.2% to $0.475, extending the company's dividend growth streak to 32 years. Shares offer an annualized yield 1.5% presently, slightly higher than the average yield of the S&P 500. Despite McGrath RentCorp's variance in earnings-per-share over the last decade, the company has been able to raise its dividend each year for more than three decades. This is an impressive feat for a company in an industry that can be very cyclical.

Valuation Analysis

Shares of McGrath RentCorp have increased $3, or 2.7%, since our July 27th, 2024 update. Based off earnings expectations for 2024, McGrath RentCorp's stock currently has a price-to-earnings ratio of 23.8. We have a valuation target of 18 times earnings, in-line with the long-term average for the stock. Valuation could reduce annual returns by 5.4% over this period.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Payout	57%	63%	64%	49%	40%	38%	39%	47%	38%	41%	40%	40%

McGrath RentCorp showed in the last recession that its earnings are at risk during a downturn. The company's rental business would most likely see earnings decline in the next recession as customers might not be willing to add additional classroom or office space, and would make do with current facilities. Even when the economy strengthened, McGrath RentCorp had difficulty growing earnings until very recently. One area McGrath RentCorp has succeeded in is lowering its debt over the past decade. The amount of debt as a percentage of assets has gone down almost every year since 2008. McGrath RentCorp's payout ratio is in a healthy range and the company has increased its dividend by at least 9% for the three years prior to 2020, though the last two raises have been below this range. Higher-than-average increases could mean that management believes earnings will grow at a higher than usual rate.

McGrath RentCorp's key competitive advantage is that company's rental portfolio is diverse. The company's products are used for office space, school classrooms, and telecommunications purposes. While still sensitive to the state of the economy, this product diversity does give McGrath RentCorp some cushion against weakness in any one area of its business.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

Following third quarter results, McGrath RentCorp is projected to return 0.3% annually, down from our previous estimate of 0.6%. Our projected return stems from a 4% earnings growth rate and 1.7% starting yield that are nearly offset by a mid-single-digit headwind from multiple compression. The termination of the agreement with WillScot Mobile Mini has removed some of the uncertainty with the stock, but the valuation leaves much to be desired. We have raised our price target $1 to $105, but continue to rate shares of McGrath RentCorp as a sell due to projected returns.
