Overview & Current Events

Founded in 2005, ServisFirst Bancshares, Inc. is a regional bank. SFBS operates as the holding company of ServisFirst Bank.

As of September 30th, the company had almost three dozen office locations scattered throughout Alabama, Florida, Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, and Virginia. The market share in its markets served ranged from the low single digits to as much as 20%+ in its headquartered state of Alabama. Concluding Q3 2024, the company had $16.4 billion in assets.

SFBS' product offerings are what somebody would expect from a bank. Savings products include savings accounts, checking accounts, and money market accounts. SFBS' loan products are residential real estate loans, vehicle loans, personal loans, commercial lines of credit, commercial real estate loans, and construction and development loans. The company also provides customers with telephone and mobile banking, internet banking, safe deposit boxes, and debit and credit cards.

In 2023, ServisFirst Bank earned the distinction of being the fourth-ranked publicly traded bank in the nation with between $10 billion and $50 billion in assets via American Banker. This marked the third consecutive year that the bank ranked in the top five for this category of publicly traded banks. Metrics like three-year average returns on average equity, return on average assets, net interest margin, and other measures are used to arrive at these rankings.

On October 21st, SFBS shared its third-quarter financial results for the period ended September 30th. The company's net interest income surged 15.5% higher year-over-year to $115.1 million during the quarter. Loan growth (6% year-over-year) and a 20-basis point improvement in the net interest margin (and a five-point improvement sequentially) helped deliver these results in the quarter. SFBS' diluted EPS jumped 15.8% over the year-ago period to $1.10 for the quarter. This beat the analyst consensus by $0.12 during the quarter.

Growth on a Per-Share Basis

Year	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2029
EPS	$1.05	$1.20	$1.52	$1.72	$2.53	$2.76	$3.13	$3.82	$4.61	$3.79	$4.11	$6.32
DPS	$0.10	$0.11	$0.15	$0.19	$0.38	$0.60	$0.70	$0.80	$0.92	$1.12	$1.20	$1.85
Shares²	49.6	52.0	52.6	53.0	53.4	53.6	53.9	54.2	54.3	54.5	54.5	55.3

SFBS has compounded its diluted EPS at a double-digit annual rate in the last decade. As the bank grows, this level of growth will likely become harder to maintain over time. In the years to come, SFBS plans to keep focusing on opening new locations in metropolitan, Southern markets. The most recent examples are the loan production office opened in Memphis in February and the office opened in Auburn in July. Combined with organic loan growth and an expanding net interest margin, that's why we still believe that diluted EPS can compound by 9.0% annually through 2029.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2029
Avg. P/E	15.0	19.3	24.6	23.3	12.7	13.6	12.9	22.0	15.0	16.9	20.6	17.5
Avg. Yld.	0.6%	0.5%	0.4%	0.5%	1.2%	1.6%	1.7%	0.9%	1.3%	1.7%	1.4%	1.7%

In the last 10 years, SFBS’ P/E ratio has ranged from the low double-digits to as high as the mid-20s. Overall, the P/E ratio has averaged 17.5 in that time. Since the company’s growth prospects are largely intact accounting for its growing scale, we still believe that the fair value P/E ratio should remain right around 17.5 in the years ahead. From the current P/E ratio exceeding 20, this suggests that shares are fully valued right now.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Payout	10%	9%	10%	11%	15%	22%	22%	21%	20%	30%	29%	29%

SFBS enjoys a few notable operating advantages. These include the simplicity of its business model in that loans and deposits are primary drivers of its growth, not ancillary services. Additionally, the company’s technology-oriented business model means that its branch footprint is limited. This allows for greater efficiency versus many of its peers. Lastly, SFBS offers the products that big banks do with the delivery that would be expected from a community bank. This has led to profitability in each quarter since 2005 and rather reliable growth in diluted EPS over time. The company’s nonperforming assets ratio of 0.25% in Q3 2024 also points to a bank that is laser-focused on asset quality. Combined with a payout ratio that’s set to be in the high 20% range in 2024, that positions the dividend to grow as fast as earnings in the future. This is why we continue to expect 9.0% annual dividend growth over the medium term as well.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

SFBS’ 1.4% dividend yield, 9.0% annual diluted EPS growth potential, and 3.2% annual valuation multiple contraction could combine to generate 6.9% annual total returns through 2029. The regional bank’s valuation isn’t providing much margin of safety today, so we’re reiterating our hold rating.
