Overview & Current Events

United Bankshares was formed in 1982 and since that time, has acquired more than 30 separate banking institutions. This focus on acquisitions, in addition to organic growth, has allowed United to expand into a regional powerhouse in the Mid-Atlantic with a $5 billion market capitalization, about $30 billion in total assets, and annual revenue of about a billion dollars. The company has a long dividend history, with a very impressive 50 consecutive years of dividend increases.

United posted third quarter earnings on October 24th, 2024, and results were good. Earnings-per-share came to 70 cents, while revenue beat estimates by $2.3 million at $262.2 million.

Net interest income was $230 million, up about 2% from Q2. The increase was due to higher average short-term investments, higher yields on loans, and partially being offset by higher deposit costs. The yield on average net loans rose six basis points to 6.20%, while average interest-bearing deposits rose 10 basis points to 3.28%. Net interest margin came to 3.50%, up two basis points from Q2.

Provisions for credit losses were $6.9 million, up from $5.8 million in Q2. Noninterest income was $31.9 million, up 6% from Q2, which was driven by higher mortgage banking income.

United previously announced the merger agreement with Piedmont Bancorp, a firm with $32 billion in assets at over 240 locations across eight states. The company expects the merger to close late in the fourth quarter of this year, or very early in 2025.

We've boosted our estimate of earnings-per-share to $2.75, a nickel higher than previous.

Growth on a Per-Share Basis

Year	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2029
EPS	$1.92	$1.98	$1.99	$1.54	$2.45	$2.55	$2.80	$2.97	$2.80	$2.71	$2.75	$3.19
DPS	$1.28	$1.29	$1.32	$1.33	$1.36	$1.37	$1.40	$1.41	$1.44	$1.45	$1.48	$1.63
Shares²	68	70	74	98	102	102	129	129	129	135	135	138

Earnings-per-share have been flat for a few years now, as the company has struggled with translating asset and loan growth into profits. We now see 3% annual earnings growth. We note the relatively high base in earnings for 2024 as making future growth more challenging.

United has always grown through acquisitions, and we do not believe that will change. However, its net interest margin is going to be at risk in the coming quarters as the rapid decline in rates in 2020 produced a huge decline in the cost of funds. Rates moved favorably for banks in 2021, and moved sharply higher in 2022. Assuming rates remain elevated, United will be subject to potentially much higher funding costs, which will see its NIM deteriorate if it cannot produce commensurate gains in lending yields. Net interest margin stabilized in Q2 and Q3 of 2024.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	Now	2029
Avg. P/E	16.6	19.4	19.3	23.6	14.7	14.6	10.0	12.5	14.5	13.6	13.5	12.0
Avg. Yld.	4.0%	3.4%	3.4%	3.8%	3.8%	3.7%	5.0%	3.8%	3.6%	4.1%	4.0%	4.3%

We see fair value at 12 times earnings, given where peer valuations are at present. We see increased risk for United given the relatively weak performance historically of the company's net interest margin and we think investors will pay slightly less for the stock as a result. Shares are overvalued at the moment given they go for 13.5 times earnings. The yield on the stock is now 4%, so it is a strong choice for income investors, and we think the dividend will rise at low single-digit rates over the intermediate term. We believe the yield could be higher still in the coming years. Given the yield and its 50-year dividend increase streak, United is an exemplary dividend stock.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2029
Payout	64%	64%	66%	87%	56%	54%	50%	47%	51%	54%	54%	51%

United's dividend payout ratio is now 54% of earnings, and we expect it will move higher. We see United's dividend as safe and able to weather an economic downturn, as it did during the Great Recession. The higher share count makes the dividend more costly, but United has raised its payout for an extremely impressive five decades.

United's competitive advantage is in its strong market position in the areas it serves. It is headquartered in West Virginia where competition is relatively light, and it is expanding into more densely populated areas like northern Virginia. That does not make it immune from recessions, but its performance in 2008 and 2009 was exemplary, and held up in very challenging conditions in 2020, and thrived in 2021.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

United is now expected to produce 4.5% annual returns in the coming years, as we forecast 3% growth, and see the stock as overvalued, driving a 2.3% headwind. The yield is attractive at 4% and should remain safe for years to come, so United could be worth a look for pure income investors. Shares continue to earn a hold rating as we see the road ahead being somewhat tough from a growth perspective, particularly for lending margins.
