Overview & Current Events

Consolidated Edison is a holding company that delivers electricity, natural gas, and steam to its customers in New York City and Westchester County. The company has annual revenues of nearly $16 billion.

On January 18th, 2024, Consolidated Edison announced that it was raising its quarterly dividend 2.5% to $0.83. This is the company's 50th annual increase, qualifying Consolidated Edison as a Dividend King.

On November 7th, 2024, Consolidated Edison reported third quarter results for the period ending September 30th, 2024. For the quarter, revenue improved 5.7% to $4.1 billion, which topped estimates by $26 million. Adjusted earnings of $583 million, or $1.68 per share, compared to adjusted earnings of $561 million, or $1.62 per share, in the previous year. Adjusted earnings-per-share were $0.10 more than anticipated.

As with prior periods, higher rate bases for gas and electric customers were the primary contributors to results in the CECONY business, which accounts for the vast majority of the company's assets. Once again, the denial of approval to capitalize costs related to the implementation of the new customer billing and information systems was a headwind to results. Average rate base balances are still expected to grow by 6.4% annually for the 2024 to 2028 period, up from 6% previously. Consolidated Edison continues to expect capital investments of nearly $28 billion for the 2024 to 2028 period.

We now expect that Consolidated Edison will earn $5.34 in 2024, up from $5.30 previously. The company expects 5% to 7% earnings growth from 2024 levels through 2028.

In 2018, Consolidated Edison received approval to raise its rates by 6% per year in both the electric and gas delivery segments for the next three years. Thanks to rate hikes and population growth, the company has been able to raise its dividend for nearly five decades. Consolidated Edison initiated its biggest investment program in its history last year. It has completed its installation smart meters in its network. This will help customers optimize energy use while the company will be able to realize lower peak demand and thus reduce its operating cost. The company also expects capital investment of ~$4.8 billion for 2024, and ~$23 billion for 2025 through 2028.

Consolidated Edison has grown its earnings-per-share at a 3.8% average annual rate during the last decade. The company has grown its dividend at a 2.8% annual rate over this period, but it has also diluted its shareholders at a 1.9% per year.

Due to the company's guidance for 2024, we have raised our projected earnings growth rate to 4% from 3.5%. The dividend growth rate is expected to be 2.5% per year through 2029 as this is close to the long-term average.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	Now	2029
Avg. P/E	15.9	15.6	18.8	20.0	17.4	20.7	17.3	19.4	20.9	17.9	18.4	16.0
Avg. Yld.	4.4%	4.1%	3.6%	3.4%	3.8%	3.3%	4.2%	3.6%	3.3%	3.6%	3.4%	3.6%

Shares of Consolidated Edison have fallen $4, or 3.9%, since our August 4th, 2024 report. Just like most other utilities, Consolidated Edison reached somewhat overvalued levels in recent years thanks to the almost record-low interest rates that prevailed for years and led yield-starved investors to utility stocks. With rates now higher, valuations have come down somewhat for many of the names in the sector. Shares trade with a price-to-earnings ratio of 18.4 based off estimates for 2024. Consolidated Edison has traded at an average multiple of 18.4 over the last decade, but we believe that a multiple of 16 times earnings is appropriate given the company's lack of growth over the past few years. We expect valuation to act as a 2.7% headwind to annual returns through 2029.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2029
Payout	70%	64%	68%	68%	66%	68%	73%	71%	69%	64%	62%	58%

Just like most other utilities, thanks to its heavy investments in infrastructure, Consolidated Edison is typically allowed by the regulatory authorities to raise its rates. As a result, it enjoys reliable cash flows and can thus service its debt. One key competitive advantage for Consolidated Edison is that consumers do not curtail their electricity consumption even during the roughest economic periods, so the stock is resilient during recessions. This resiliency should be attractive to investors. In the Great Recession, when most companies saw their earnings collapse, earnings for Consolidated Edison fell just 3% in 2008 and 7% in 2009, and it took only one year to return to the pre-crisis level.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

Following third quarter results, Consolidated Edison is expected to return 4.5% annually through 2029, up from our prior estimate of 3.5%. Projected returns stem from a 4.0% earnings growth rate and a starting yield of 3.4% that are partially offset by a low single-digit headwind from multiple compression. For income investors, there is much to like about Consolidated Edison, including the company's dividend growth track record and the stock's solid yield. We have raised our five-year price target $1 to $104 due to EPS estimates for the year and now rate Consolidated Edison as a hold due to projected returns.
