Overview & Current Events

Alliant Energy Corporation is a public utility holding company incorporated in Madison, Wisconsin, in 1981. In 2022, Alliant Energy generated $4.0 billion in operating revenues. The company serves approximately 970,000 electric and 420,000 natural gas customers. Alliant has about 3,600 employees. The largest cities in Iowa and Wisconsin are Cedar Rapids and Beloit, respectively, based on electric sales. The company consists of three subsidiaries. The first is the largest, Interstate Power and Light Company (IPL), which accounted for 51.2% of Alliant's 2022 earnings. IPL is a public utility that generates and distributes electricity and distributes and transports natural gas in Iowa. The second subsidiary is Wisconsin Power and Light Company (WPL), which provides similar services to IPL in southern and central Wisconsin. WPL contributed 44.6 of total 2022 earnings. The last is Corporate Services, which account for a tiny percentage of the company's total earnings.

On October 31st, 2024, Alliant Energy reported third-quarter results for Fiscal Year (FY)2024. The company reported third-quarter 2024 GAAP earnings per share (EPS) of $1.15, a 13% increase from $1.02 in 2023. Non-GAAP EPS remained stable at $1.15 compared to $1.05 the prior year. The company narrowed its 2024 EPS guidance to $2.99-$3.06 and issued a 2025 EPS forecast of $3.15-$3.25. Factors contributing to higher earnings included increased revenue from capital investments and favorable tax timing, partially offset by rising financing and depreciation costs. Alliant highlighted minimal temperature impacts on Q3 results and reiterated its long-term earnings growth rate of 5%-7%.

Capital investment remains a cornerstone of Alliant's strategy. The company projects $11 billion in capital expenditures from 2025 to 2028, with significant allocations to renewable energy and battery storage projects. For 2025, anticipated investments include $800 million in renewables and $390 million in gas infrastructure. These initiatives align with Alliant's commitment to enhancing grid reliability, sustainability, and capacity to meet growing energy demand, particularly from data centers.

Alliant also announced an expected 6% increase in its 2025 annual dividend target to $2.03 per share, reflecting its strong financial performance and commitment to shareholder returns. CEO Lisa Barton emphasized the company's focus on customer-centric growth and clean energy transformation, citing a track record of consistent performance and positioning Alliant to adapt to evolving market and regulatory conditions.

LNT's earnings have been steadily growing at a rate of 5.5% annually for the past ten years. As a utility company, LNT is restricted on how it can increase its rate of returns. The net margin has been gradually growing as well. In 2010, the net margin was 8.4%. Now net margin is at a rate of 16.3%. This is a byproduct of the tax rate decreasing from a high of 32% in 2010 to 10.8% last year. However, the share count has increased at a compound growth rate of 1.1% for the past five years. This dilutes the EPS slightly.

We expect earnings to continue to grow at a modest rate of 6%, giving us an estimated EPS of $4.07 for 2029. The company has also been very consistent with its dividend policies. LNT has been growing dividends for the past 21 years. In the last ten years, dividend growth has averaged 6.9% annually. We are conservative and predicting a dividend growth rate of 6% for the next five years. The company increased its dividend by 6.1% on January 15, 2024.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	Now	2029
Avg. P/E	19.1	18	20.3	22.1	19.5	23.7	21.2	23.4	19.7	18.2	20.7	20.0
Avg. Yld.	3.1%	3.5%	3.1%	3.0%	3.2%	2.6%	3.0%	2.6%	3.1%	3.5%	3.1%	3.2%

The company has been valued somewhat at a premium since 2016. For the past ten years, LNT has had an average PE of 20.5x compared to the current PE of 20.7x. We think a fair valued PE is 20x, lower than its five-year average. The current dividend yield is higher than the company's 5-year average of 2.9%. We think LNT is fair valued at the current price.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2029
Payout	58.6%	63.2%	63.1%	65.3%	61.8%	61.5%	62.6%	61.2%	61.1%	64.2%	63%	63%

The company's competitive advantage is that a utility company is very monopolizing as there is only one utility company in any given area. Thus, utility stocks are often held by investors for their defensive nature. People will always need to power their homes and businesses. However, LNT shows that earnings can decrease during a recession. For example, during the Great Recession from 2008 to 2009, its earnings-per-share fell from a high of $1.35 in 2007 to $0.98 in 2009. Earnings did bounce back big by 40% in 2010, to $1.38. Even though earnings fell significantly in this period, the dividend was not cut. It was raised from $0.70 in 2008 to $0.75 in 2009. This shows that LNT is committed to paying growing dividends. The debt-to-Equity ratio (D/E) is 1.4 for the year compared to 1.1 in FY2021. Even though the D/E rate increased, the company still holds a credit rating of A- with S&P and has a healthy interest coverage ratio of 2.3.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

Alliant Energy is a safe business. The company continues to produce a very reliable and growing dividend. The dividend has been increasing for the past 21 years. At the current price, the company is fairly valued with a target price of $61. Thus, we recommend a hold at the current price. We see 8.1% expected annual total returns for an excellent, dependable business in the next five years.
