Overview & Current Events

A group of investors led by John W. Allison and Robert H. "Bunny" Adcock Jr. founded Home Bancshares, Inc. (HOMB), a bank holding company, in 1998. Customers in Arkansas, Florida, Alabama, and New York can access a variety of financial services via Centennial Bank, the company's main subsidiary. More than 300,000 consumers are served by the company's more than 222 branch sites. Home Bancshares holds a competitive position in the banking sector and prioritizes offering excellent client care and creative financial solutions. The business derives income from several markets, including commercial loans, residential loans, consumer loans, and deposit accounts, and has a market share of about 1% in the US banking industry.

On January 15th, 2024, the company announced results for its fourth quarter of 2024. The company reported non-GAAP EPS of $0.50, missing the market's estimates by $0.02, and revenues of $258.4 million that were up 5.2% year-over-year.

Home BancShares reported robust results, with net income of $100.6 million, or $0.51 per diluted share, reflecting steady growth from $86.2 million, or $0.43 per share, in the same quarter of 2023. The rise in total revenue for the quarter was supported by higher net interest income and stable non-interest income. The bank's net interest margin (NIM) expanded to 4.39%, up from 4.28% in Q3, driven by improved funding costs, higher loan yields, and the repayment of a $700 million Federal Reserve Bank Term Funding Program advance.

Chairman and CEO John Allison highlighted the company's proactive asset quality cleanup, which included $53.4 million in net charge-offs from legacy loans and hurricane-related provisions. This move aimed to strengthen the bank's balance sheet heading into 2025. Despite these measures, the bank maintained solid financial metrics, including a return on average assets (ROA) of 1.77% and a return on tangible common equity (ROTCE) of 15.94%. As of December 31st, 2024, total assets stood at $22.49 billion, with total loans receivable of $14.76 billion and deposits increasing to $17.15 billion. The allowance for credit losses declined to $275.9 million, or 1.87% of total loans, reflecting completed write-offs and adequate provisioning. Book value per share remained stable at $19.92, while tangible book value per share grew slightly to $12.68. HOMB's strong capital position and disciplined execution set the stage for continued growth in 2025.

Growth on a Per-Share Basis

As of December 31st, 2024, Home BancShares demonstrated a strong liquidity position, supported by a total deposit base of $17.15 billion that was up from $16.71 billion in the prior quarter. With an improving net interest margin and strategic asset management, HOMB is well-positioned to navigate economic uncertainties and seize growth opportunities in the coming quarters.

Updated January 22nd, 2025, by Yiannis Zourmpanos

Thus, we revised upwards our EPS forecast for 2025, matching the midpoint of analysts’ estimates at $2.19, but amidst the expected normalization and decline in interest rates in 2025, we expect a slower growth with a projected annual EPS growth of 9.0%. This implies an EPS estimate of $3.37 by 2030. Home Bancshares’s DPS had a 10-year and five-year CAGR of 11.6% and 21.3%, respectively. However, the company's approach to managing its capital and liquidity supports the payment of competitive cash dividends. Thus, we have assumed a stable annual DPS growth of at least 8.0%.

Valuation Analysis

|-----------|------|------|------|------|------|------|------|------|------|------|------|------|
| Avg. P/E  | 18.4 | 17.4 | 28.0 | 12.6 | 10.8 | 12.5 | 12.5 | 14.8 | 11.5 | 12.8 | 13.7 | 11.0 |
| Avg. Yld. | 1.5% | 1.6% | 1.6% | 2.1% | 2.7% | 3.3% | 2.3% | 2.8% | 3.1% | 2.9% | 2.6% | 3.1% |

Home Bancshares is trading at a forward P/E of 13.7, lower than its 10-year average P/E of 15.7, but above its five-year average P/E of 12.4. Thus, considering the bank’s resiliency and the uncertainty attached to the sector, we have assumed a stable P/E of 11.0 to value the company by 2030, slightly lower than its historical averages. This suggests a target price of $37.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

| Year   | 2015 | 2016 | 2017 | 2018 | 2019 | 2020 | 2021 | 2022 | 2023 | 2024 | 2025 | 2030 |
| Payout | 28%  | 27%  | 45%  | 27%  | 29%  | 41%  | 29%  | 42%  | 36%  | 37%  | 36%  | 34%  |

Home Bancshares has proved its resiliency. Despite economic headwinds, the bank’s entire franchise delivered a strong performance in 2023. The bank has a fortress balance sheet, with a total risk-based capital of 18.7% of its assets in Q4, which makes it one of the best-capitalized banks in the country.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

Finally, Home Bancshares’ strong financial position and capitalization support the bank’s position in the market, making it resilient during market cycles. Thus, we maintain our hold rating, premised upon the 7.0% annualized total returns for the medium-term, derived from the forecasted earnings-per-share growth of 9.0%, the 2.6% dividend yield, and the valuation headwind.
