Overview & Current Events

Westamerica Bancorporation is the holding company for Westamerica Bank. Westamerica Bancorporation is a regional community bank with 79 branches in Northern and Central California. The company can trace its origins back to 1884. Westamerica Bancorporation offers clients access to savings, checking and money market accounts. The company's loan portfolio consists of both commercial and residential real estate loans, as well as construction loans. Westamerica Bancorporation is the seventh largest bank headquartered in California. It has annual revenues of about $265 million.

On April 17th, 2025 Westamerica Bancorporation reported first quarter results for the period ending March 31st, 2025. For the quarter, revenue declined 12.4% to $66.7 million, but this was $246K better than expected. GAAP earnings-per-share of $1.16 compared unfavorably to $1.37 in the prior year, but this was $0.05 ahead of estimates.

Average total loans were lower by 7.5% to $789.9 million. Commercial real estate loans, which make up more than half of the total loan portfolio, grew 1.7% while consumer loans fell 25.4% and commercial loans were down 9.9%. As of the end of the quarter, nonperforming loans totaled $277K, an 81.3% decrease from the prior year. The company had a reversal of provision for credit losses of $550K for the period. Net interest income was $59.8 million, which compares to $62.7 million for the fourth quarter of 2024 and $69.1 million for the first quarter of 2024. Net interest margin of 3.90% compared to 4.01% in the fourth quarter of 2024 and 4.30% in the first quarter of 2024. Average total deposits decreased 7.8% to $5.0 billion.

Analysts expect that the company will earn $4.40 in 2025, up from $4.33 previously. We have updated our forecast accordingly.

Earnings-per-share for Westamerica Bancorporation more than doubled from 2008 to 2009, an accomplishment that few banks can claim. Earnings-per-share had declined in what is essentially a straight line until 2018, which was just the second year since 2009 that earnings increased year-over-year. The company had seen flat or higher earnings-per-share each year since before returning to growth in 2022 and 2023. Our previously expected earnings decline occurred in 2024, with further decreases likely to take place this year. Still, we anticipate an annual earnings-per-share growth rate of 2% through 2030.

Westamerica Bancorporation has increased its dividend for the past 30 years. The company most recently increased its dividend by 4.8% for the August 18th, 2023 payment date. The dividend has compounded at a rate of 1.6% annually over the last decade. Note that the company also tends to raise its dividend every other year, but typically does so in the second half of the year to keep its dividend growth streak alive.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	Now	2030
Avg. P/E	19.9	21.7	25.7	24.3	22.7	18.6	17.9	13.0	8.3	10.2	10.9	13.0
Avg. Yld.	3.3%	3.1%	2.6%	2.8%	2.4%	3.0%	2.9%	2.8%	3.0%	3.4%	3.7%	3.1%

Westamerica Bancorporation’s stock has declined $4, or 7.7%, since our January 17th, 2025 update. Using the expected earnings-per-share for the year, the price-to-earnings ratio (P/E) is 10.9. The stock has seen its average P/E multiple vary dramatically over the past decade. Eliminating the years where the average P/E was above 24 (2017 and 2018), shares of Westamerica Bancorporation have averaged a multiple of more than 16. We reaffirm our target valuation of 13 times earnings as we believe this is a better representation of the company today. If shares were to revert to our target P/E, valuation would add 3.6% to annual returns through 2030.

Westamerica Bancorporation trades with a forward yield of 3.7%, which is higher than both the average yield of the S&P 500 and the stock’s long-term historical average 2.9%.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2025	2030
Payout	67%	68%	68%	60%	55%	55%	51%	37%	28%	34%	40%	40%

While earnings-per-share increased significantly during the last recession, this does not make Westamerica Bancorporation recession proof, or even an attractive investment. The company has proven that it cannot be a reliable source of earnings growth. Despite this, the company’s dividend payout ratio has been relatively stable.

Westamerica Bancorporation’s key competitive advantage is its ability to see an improvement in net interest income as interest rates were increased. The Federal Reserve has begun to cut interest rates, but they will likely remain elevated compared to where they were following the 2007 to 2009 period. The reduction in rates will make servicing deposits less expensive while loans with higher interest rates remain on the books, which should lead to NIM improvements.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

Following first quarter results, Westamerica Bancorporation is projected to return 8.6% annually through 2030, up from our previous estimate of 6.6%. Our projected returns stem from a 2% earnings growth rate, a 3.7% dividend yield, and a low single-digit contribution from multiple expansion. Loan and deposit growth remains weak and net interest income continues to fall. However, the bank’s loan book remains in excellent shape. We continue to rate shares of Westamerica Bancorporation as a hold due to projected returns.
