Overview & Current Events

Ameren Corporation owns rate-regulated generation, transmission, and distribution networks that deliver electricity and natural gas in Missouri and Illinois. The company serves 2.5 million electricity customers and more than 900,000 natural gas customers. It primarily generates electricity through coal, nuclear, and natural gas, as well as renewable sources such as hydroelectric, wind, methane gas, and solar. The company serves residential (49% of revenues), commercial (34%), and industrial customers (17%). This $26.9 billion company was founded in 1881 and has about 9,500 employees.

On May 1st, 2025, Ameren Corporation released its first quarter of 2025 results for the period ending March 31st, 2025. For the quarter, the company reported net income of $289 million and $1.07 earnings per diluted share, compared to the same quarter a year ago net income of $261 million and $0.98 earnings per diluted share. The reported earnings reflected higher adjusted EPS, driven by earnings on increased infrastructure investments, higher electric retail sales at Ameren Missouri primarily due to colder winter temperatures, and lower operations and maintenance expenses in the natural gas segment. These favorable factors were partially offset by higher interest expenses at Ameren Missouri and the parent company, and storm-related costs. Total revenues came in at $2,097 million in the quarter, which represents a 15.5% increase year-over-year. Ameren's total electricity sales volumes for Q1 2025 rose to 17,808 million kilowatthours, up from 17,140 million in Q1 2024. Electric revenues increased to $1,622 million, up from $1,364 million in Q1 2024. Gas revenues rose to $475 million, compared to $452 million in the year-ago period. Total operating expenses for the quarter were $1,667 million, up from $1,445 million in Q1 2024. Interest expenses in the first quarter were $175 million, compared with $154 million a year earlier. Ameren has increased its five-year infrastructure investment plan to $26.3 billion for 2025–2029, reflecting a 20% increase from prior expectations. These investments aim to support Ameren's ~9.2% projected compound annual rate base growth and the company's long-term goal of achieving net-zero carbon emissions by 2045. Ameren has increased its five-year infrastructure investment plan to $26.3 billion for 2025-2029, reflecting a 20% increase from prior expectations. These investments aim to support Ameren's 9.2% projected compound annual rate base growth and the company's long-term goal of achieving net-zero carbon emissions by 2045. During the investor update, the company presented a positive outlook, underpinned by robust long-term infrastructure investments. Ameren affirmed its 2025 earnings guidance range of $4.85 to $5.05 per diluted share, with the midpoint of $4.95 representing approximately 7% EPS growth compared to last year's result. Additionally, the company projects a 6% to 8% compound annual EPS growth from 2025 through 2029, using the 2025 EPS midpoint as the base. The company continues to aim for future dividend growth in line with long-term EPS growth expectations, maintaining a planned payout ratio between 55% and 65% of annual EPS.

Ameren Corporation (AEE)

Updated May 5th, 2025, by Patrick Neuwirth

Ameren’s long-term earnings growth track record is solid, growing EPS every year since 2015. Over the last five years, the average EPS growth rate is 7.2%.

We expect the company to grow its earnings-per-share by 7.0% per year on average over the next five years. The company has a good earnings track record and will benefit from gas and electricity rate hikes. This should compensate for the effects of higher operating and maintenance costs, depreciation, and slightly higher average shares outstanding.

The company has a long history of paying dividends and has increased its payout for 12 consecutive years. In February 2025, the quarterly dividend increased by 6% from $0.67 to $0.71 per share. Over the last five years, the average annual dividend growth rate is 7.3%.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	Now	2030
Avg. P/E	17.5	18.3	20.6	18.3	22.1	22.2	23.3	22.3	16.4	21.0	20.1	21.0

During the past decade shares of Ameren Corporation have traded with an average price-to-earnings ratio of about 20.2 times earnings and today, it stands at 20.1. We are using 21 times earnings as a fair value baseline, implying the potential for a valuation tailwind. The company’s dividend yield is currently 2.9% and the raises in the last few years have contributed to total returns.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2025	2030
Payout	67%	70%	64%	64%	56%	57%	57%	57%	57%	58%	57%	55%

During the past five years, the company’s dividend payout ratio has averaged around 60%. The company has a projected 2025 payout ratio of 58%, which indicates a sustainable dividend and is within Ameren’s target³ payout range of 55%-65%. We expect that earnings growth will be stable, meaning that there is still room for the dividend to continue to grow with a payout ratio below 60%. Ameren Corporation is investing very heavily in renewable energy and growing its rate base. Any increase to the rate base allows the company to increase the price that it charges to its customers. This will help Ameren to maintain a sustainable earnings growth rate. Investing in the energy grid should also improve reliability (less outage), increase customer satisfaction, and will result in attractive rates for customers below the US average. The expected compound annual rate base growth³ 2024 through 2029 is ~9.2%.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

Ameren Corporation is a quality stock in terms of its earnings growth track record, its earnings growth outlook, its dividend yield, and its infrastructure investments related to the net-zero carbon emission target for 2050. We estimate a total return of 10.3% from a 2.9% yield, 7% EPS growth, and a valuation tailwind. Shares earn a hold rating.
