The most significant growth prospects from CDP will be the continuation of profitable acquisitions in the future and increasing rents at a modest rate. CDP had grown FFO at a Compound Annual Growth Rate (CAGR) of 2.8% over the past ten years. Over the past five years, FFO growth has improved with a CAGR of 4.6%. During the COVID-19 pandemic, most REITs had to cut their dividend, or FFO decreased for the year. However, FFO increased by 4% from 2019 to 2020 for the company. We expect CDP to continue to grow FFO at a 2.5% CAGR for the next five years. We expect the Trust to make $3.01 in FFO per share in 2030.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2025	2030
Avg. P/E	10.9	15.5	14.4	10.5	14.5	12.3	12.2	11	10.6	12.1	10.2	12.0
Avg. Yld.	5.0%	3.5%	3.8%	5.2%	3.7%	4.2%	3.9%	4.2%	4.5%	3.8%	4.6%	3.4%

CDP currently trades hands with a 10.2x FFO, which is lower than its peers. Over the ten years history of CDP, the Trust has ten-year multiple averages of 12.4x FFO. Thus, we think a multiple of 12.0x FFO is fair for CDP. This will provide a 3.5% tailwind expansion over the next five years. The current dividend yield of 4.6% is higher than its five-year average. Thus, the company looks to be undervalued.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2025	2030
Payout	55%	55%	54%	55%	54%	52%	48%	47%	47%	46%	46%	43%

CDP's competitive advantage is that it has a strong management team. The company was very resilient during The Great Recession in 2008-2009 and droning the COVID-19 pandemic. During 2008, FFO increased by 9% to $2.44 per share. Also, in 2019, FFO increased by 2% to $2.49 per share. As mentioned above, CDP was one of the fortunate REITs that increased FFO in FY2020. This speaks volumes as most REITs struggle mightily during the pandemic. Also, OFC did not have to cut its dividend.

CDP has a good balance sheet. The Trust has an interest coverage ratio of 4.3 and a debt-to-equity ratio of 1.6. The dividend payment is meager compared to other REITs paying out 46% of its FFO. The low dividend payout ratio should help the company start a dividend growth policy in the future.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

CDP is a well-run office REIT with a good balance sheet. The Trust went through the COVID-19 pandemic like it was not even there. The Trust offers an expected total return for the next five years of 9.2%. However, at the current price, the stock earns a hold rating.
