Overview & Current Events

Walker & Dunlop, Inc. (WD) is headquartered in Bethesda, Maryland and provides financing and advisory services for multifamily and commercial real estate across the United States. Operating through Capital Markets, Servicing & Asset Management, and Corporate segments, the company offers various loan products, including first mortgage, construction, mezzanine, and small-balance loans. It specializes in financing for multifamily, affordable, senior, and student housing through programs like Fannie Mae's DUS. Walker & Dunlop also acts as a debt broker, provides property sales brokerage, appraisals, investment banking, and market research services, and manages loans and third-party capital in tax credit equity funds. Founded in 1937, it has a long-standing presence in the real estate finance sector.

On May 1, 2025, Walker & Dunlop reported its financial results for the first quarter of 2025. The company posted total revenues of $237.4 million, a 4% increase year-over-year, driven by a 10% rise in total transaction volume to $7.0 billion, with significant contributions from Fannie Mae originations (up 67%) and property sales (up 58%). Despite the revenue growth, net income declined by 77% to $2.8 million, or $0.08 per diluted share, primarily due to increased personnel costs, a $4 million write-off of deferred debt issuance costs, and a $4 million provision for loan losses. Adjusted EBITDA decreased by 12% to $65 million, and adjusted core earnings per share dropped 29% to $0.85. The Capital Markets segment experienced a 25% revenue increase to $102.6 million, with notable growth in Ginnie Mae/HUD lending and investment banking fees. Conversely, the Servicing & Asset Management segment saw a 7% revenue decline to $131.9 million, impacted by lower investment management fees and decreased placement fees tied to the Fed Funds rate. The company maintained a strong servicing portfolio of $154.2 billion and managed an at-risk loan portfolio of $64.5 billion, with defaults rising to $108.5 million. Walker & Dunlop reaffirmed its full-year 2025 guidance, emphasizing confidence in achieving growth targets across its business lines, including a goal of $200 million in average transaction volume per banker/broker and $600 million in tax credit equity syndications. The company also highlighted strategic expansions into hospitality investment sales, data center financing, and international markets, aiming to capitalize on favorable multifamily market fundamentals and regulatory tailwinds.

Growth on a Per-Share Basis

Year	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2025	2030
EPS	$2.72	$3.79	$4.63	$4.30	$4.68	$6.65	$7.12	$4.96	$2.75	$4.97	$3.77	$7.00
DPS	-	-	-	$1.00	$1.20	$1.44	$2.00	$2.40	$2.52	$2.60	$2.68	$3.50

We forecast 13.2% annualized earnings per share growth over the next half-decade for Walker & Dunlop. The main growth drivers will likely be strategic acquisitions and employee hires, diversification into emerging sectors as it has done with single-family rentals and build-for-rent in the past, technology improvements to its services, and doubling down its focus on high-growth markets. That said, the company is also going to face its fair share of challenges in accomplishing its growth aims as the commercial real estate finance industry is highly competitive and the sector is pretty economically sensitive. In particular, commercial real estate is facing challenges due to the wall of debt maturing in the coming years that will have to be refinanced at materially higher interest rates.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	Now	2030
Avg. P/E	13.7	14.8	9.4	8.0	8.6	11.7	28.1	27.0	21.8	17.0	19.1	18.0
Avg. Yld.	NA	NA	NA	2.9%	3.0%	1.8%	1.0%	1.8%	4.2%	3.1%	3.6%	2.8%

Walker & Dunlop currently trades at 19.1 times its earnings, which seems a fairly reasonable based on its recent history. Meanwhile, we think that the company's growth will slow over time as pressures from competition in the industry weigh on the company as well as the fact that its growing size will make it more difficult to sustain its growth rate. As a result, we think that over time, a lower valuation multiple of 18x will be warranted.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

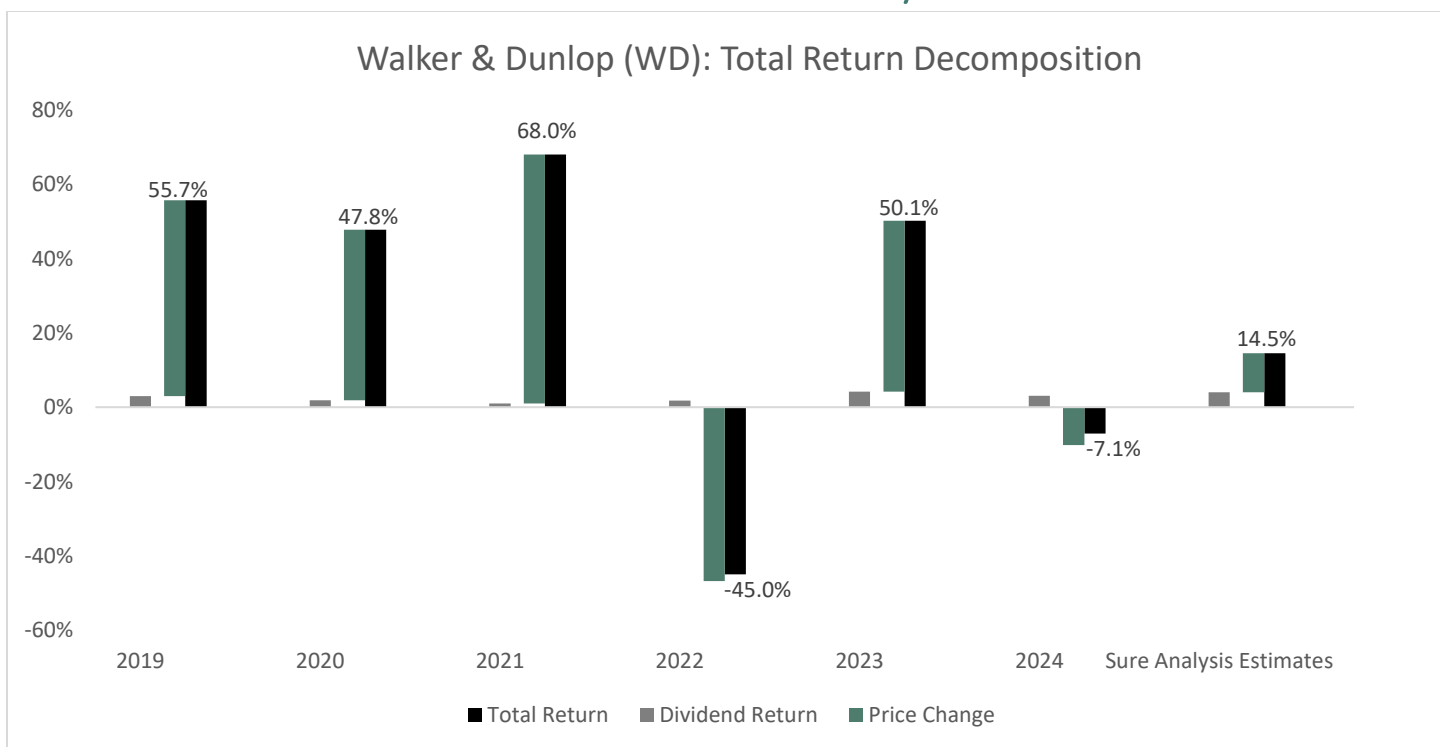

Year	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2025	2030
Payout	NA	NA	NA	23%	26%	22%	28%	48%	92%	52%	69%	50%

Walker & Dunlop's competitive advantage is rooted in its comprehensive service offerings and strong relationships with government-sponsored enterprises (GSEs) like Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac. These partnerships enable the company to provide clients with a diverse range of financing solutions, enhancing its market position. Additionally, Walker & Dunlop's investments in technology and data analytics have streamlined operations and improved client services, further distinguishing it from competitors. That said, the company is far from recession-proof as a downturn in the commercial real estate market would likely weigh pretty heavily on the company.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

We expect that solid growth alongside a decent dividend yield will be complemented by some valuation multiple expansion to result in 14.5% annualized total returns for Walker & Dunlop over the next half-decade. However, its unimpressive combination of yield and expected dividend growth makes it a Hold.
