Overview & Current Events

Citizens Financial Group is a bank holding company for Citizens Bank, a regional bank that is based in Providence, Rhode Island. Citizens operates in two segments: Consumer Banking and Commercial Banking. The consumer segment offers traditional banking products and services, such as deposit accounts, home and education loans, credit cards, business loans, mortgage and home equity loans, personal loans, auto finance loans, and wealth management. The commercial segment offers a full suite of financial products and services to businesses, including treasury management, cash management, forex and interest rate risk solutions, M&A advisory services, and more. Citizens traces its roots back to 1828 and operates about 1,000 branches in 11 states in the U.S. The stock trades with a market capitalization of $21 billion, and Citizens should generate roughly $8 billion in revenue this year.

Citizens posted second quarter earnings on July 17th, 2025, and results were better than expected on both the top and bottom lines. Adjusted earnings-per-share came to 92 cents, which was four cents ahead of estimates. Revenue was up just over 4% to $2.04 billion, $30 million ahead of estimates. Management noted strong net interest income and fee growth, discipline with expense management, and good credit outcomes.

Net interest income was up 3% sequentially and 2% from a year ago to $1.44 billion in the second quarter. Noninterest income was up to $600 million from $544 million in Q1, and $553 million a year ago.

Provisions for credit losses rose to $164 million from $153 million in Q1, but down from $182 million in last year's Q2. Period-end loans were $139 billion, up from $128 billion in Q1. Period-end deposits were $175 billion, up from $173 billion quarter-over-quarter.

We now see $3.85 in earnings-per-share for this year after a good first half.

Citizens once had strong, sustained growth, but that hasn't been the case since the COVID recession. Citizens had been seeing strong credit metrics based on prudent underwriting strategies, resulting in lower net charge-offs and allowances for credit losses until recently. Citizens, like just about every other bank of reasonable size, took huge credit loss provisions in 2020, but those were largely unwound in 2021 as actual results were much better than originally feared during the worst of the pandemic. We note that Citizens is seeing lower lending margins and rising expenses, given the volatile moves in interest rates that continue to take place. Given this, as well as the unsustainable nature of credit loss provision unwinding from elevated 2020 levels, we think Citizens will struggle to replicate 2021 earnings levels. Based on estimates for 2025, we have moved our growth forecast to 15% annually. We believe Citizens has made it through the worst period of earnings headwinds and see a brighter future ahead, but progress has thus far been fairly slow.

We see the dividend rising in the years to come as Citizens' payout ratio is low compared to many regional banks. The dividend has proven to be a priority to management, and we believe it has the potential to hit $2.14 per share by 2030. We note that Citizens raised its payout for the first time in 2.5 years in mid-2022.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	Now	2030
Avg. P/E	16.4	12.3	11.2	11.5	9.3	12.6	10.8	8.1	8.5	13.5	12.7	12.0
Avg. Yld.	1.6%	1.9%	1.8%	2.4%	3.8%	5.6%	3.4%	4.1%	4.9%	3.8%	3.4%	2.3%

Citizens has been valued in the low-double-digits for the past handful of years, excluding 2022, and we peg fair value at 12 times earnings. Shares trade at 12.7 times this year's earnings, implying a modest negative valuation impact. The yield is also strong at 3.4%, and we see it drifting below 2.5% on strong earnings growth.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2025	2030
Payout	26%	23%	20%	28%	36%	70%	29%	33%	42%	52%	44%	28%

We see the payout ratio declining from here in the years to come, as earnings growth should outpace dividend growth. We have no dividend safety concerns at this point.

Citizens, like any other bank, is beholden to economic conditions. Citizens didn't exist in its current form during the Great Recession, but regional banks in general are quite susceptible to recessions, and indeed 2020 showed what kind of impact a recession can have on earnings. Citizens, also like other regional banks, doesn't really enjoy any competitive advantages, as services are commoditized in banking to a large extent.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

Expected total returns have declined slightly and remain very high, but we're reiterating the stock at a hold rating on its dividend growth streak. Dividend safety is strong, and the current yield is nearly triple that of the S&P 500, so we see Citizens as a strong income stock. It's now overvalued, however. Total returns could accrue from 15% growth, a modest valuation headwind, and the 3.4% yield.
