Growth on a Per-Share Basis

Year	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2025	2030
EPS	$2.20	$2.46	$2.59	$3.43	$3.80	$3.85	$3.97	$4.91	$5.51	$3.76	$4.96	$6.64
DPS	$0.76	$0.78	$0.84	$0.98	$1.08	$1.13	$1.22	$1.30	$1.50	$1.58	$1.64	$2.19
Shares²	2.7	2.7	2.7	2.7	2.7	2.7	2.7	2.7	2.7	2.7	2.6	2.6

Over the past decade, CSB Bancorp has achieved steady growth, with its EPS rising from $2.20 in 2015 to $3.76 in 2024, powered by organic expansion and improving NIM. In 2025 and 2016, EPS rose gradually as CSB sustained steady loan growth and strong cost control. A significant leap occurred between 2017 and 2018, when EPS jumped from $2.59 to $3.43, fueled by tax reforms that lowered corporate tax rates and boosted profitability.

Despite challenges from the COVID-19 pandemic in 2020, which led to NIM declining from 3.97% to 3.22%, CSB recorded growth through prudent lending and credit risk management. In 2021, EPS reached $3.97, though NIM declined further to 2.63% due to continued low rates. The Federal Reserve's rate hikes in 2022 helped push EPS to $4.91 as NIM bounded back to 2.98%. By 2023, EPS reached $5.51 as higher loan yields and careful management of rising deposit costs boosted performance, with NIM expanding to 3.32%. Earnings declined in 2024 due to a large increase in credit loss provisions, primarily from the court liquidation of a large commercial lending relationship.

Looking ahead, we remain optimistic about the company's growth prospects. While EPS declined last year, we see annualized EPS growth of 6% over the medium term.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	Now	2030
Avg. P/E	9.7	9.5	10.5	9.6	9.7	9.8	9.3	7.6	6.9	10.1	8.9	10.0
Avg. Yld.	3.6%	3.4%	3.1%	3.0%	2.9%	3.0%	3.3%	3.5%	3.9%	4.1%	3.7%	3.3%

In recent years, CSB Bancorp has consistently traded at a P/E ratio in the high-single digits to low teens, aligning with the typical range for regional banks. Currently, the stock is trading at 8.9 times our projected EPS for the year, a multiple we believe undervalues the stock. Despite the bank's smaller size and lack of notable scale, we believe a P/E ratio of 10.0 times earnings is more appropriate. The stock's yield is currently stands at a decent 3.7%.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2025	2030
Payout	35%	32%	32%	29%	28%	29%	31%	26%	27%	42%	33%	33%

CSB Bancorp holds a competitive advantage through its strong community relationships and deep market expertise in Ohio, which have fostered customer loyalty. Its diverse services—including retail and commercial banking, as well as trust and brokerage—offer multiple revenue streams, bolstering the bank's resilience. This strength was evident during the Great Financial Crisis and the COVID-19 pandemic, where CSB remained profitable despite industry-wide challenges. The company's capital health was solid in the end of last year, with a Common Equity Tier 1 ratio of 15.3% and a Total Capital ratio of 16.4%, well above regulatory requirements, showing its financial stability.

However, CSB's smaller size compared to larger banks limits its ability to leverage economies of scale, potentially making it more vulnerable to extended economic downturns. While its fairly conservative lending practices and strong capital reserves provide a buffer against economic shocks, the bank's growth may be constrained in highly competitive markets. In any case, believe the bank's dividend is safe, with the payout ratio remaining at healthy levels. The company has not cut its dividend since 1998. A risk to note though is that shares are highly illiquid (avg. volume at a few 100s daily).

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

CSB Bancorp's strong community presence, diversified services, and robust footprint in the areas it serves positions it as a solid choice for investors seeking exposure to a well-managed regional bank with a track record of consistent earnings and dividend growth. We forecast annualized returns of 11.6% through 2030, driven by our growth estimates, the 3.7% yield, and the possibility of a modest valuation tailwind. We rate the stock a buy.
