Overview & Current Events

RELX is a global provider of information-based analytics and decision tools for professional and business customers. It operates through four segments: Scientific, Technical & Medical, and Risk & Business Analytics; Legal; and Exhibitions. RELX PLC was incorporated in 1903 and is headquartered in London, the United Kingdom, and has a market cap of $98 billion. The stock trades in the NYSE, though the original 1988 listing remains on the London Stock Exchange. It serves customers in more than 180 countries, and has offices in about 40 countries. All numbers have been converted to U.S. dollars unless otherwise noted.

On July 24th, 2025, RELX PLC reported its results for the six months ending June 30th, 2025. For the period, earnings-per-share was 63.5p ($0.82), 10% higher than last year in constant currency terms. The rise in EPS was mainly driven by higher revenues, which grew by 7% to £4.7 billion ($5.9 billion), and higher net margins, which remained strong at 20.6%.

The company's first two business segments (Scientific, Technical & Medical, and Risk) reported sales growth of 5% and 8%, respectively. The Legal segment's revenues grew by 9%. The Exhibitions segment continued its recovery, growing revenues by 8%.

Management continued expanding RELX's portfolio during H1-2025, completing three acquisitions for a total of £262 million ($334 million), and two small disposals. For FY2025, management reaffirmed its outlook, expecting to see positive momentum across the group and strong underlying growth in revenues, operating profits and EPS. Based on our updated estimates, we see FY2025 EPS of around $1.73. RELX also declared an interim dividend of 19.5GBP ($0.25), an increase of 7% compared to last year. We don't speculate on the FY2025 dividend amount. The trailing payout stands at $0.86.

Growth on a Per-Share Basis

EPS has grown at CAGR of 7.1% over the past decade, while DPS has grown at a CAGR of 6.7% over the same period. The company has had consistent and stable growth over the past decade and has been a top holding in most of the U.K.'s income funds. In the original LSE listing, dividends have been growing annually since 2010 and have never been cut since 1999.

We have set our CAGR estimates to around 7.5% for both EPS and DPS through 2030 as demand for RELX's solutions remains robust across all segments. Buybacks should also aid EPS growth. RELX deployed £500 million on share buybacks in 2022, £800 million in 2023, and £1 billion in 2024.

¹ Dividends have been growing annually since 2010 in RELX's original listing and original declarations in constant currency.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	Now	2030
Avg. P/E	21.2	23.1	29.3	19.5	23.2	22.5	25.4	27.9	25.7	32.1	31.0	25.0
Avg. Yld.	2.4%	2.4%	2.2%	2.3%	2.4%	2.8%	2.2%	2.3%	2.4%	1.9%	1.6%	2.0%

RELX's valuation has been consistent over the years, with its average P/E standing at 25 times. Despite management's positive future outlook, we believe that shares are currently somewhat overvalued at a P/E of 31.0, and have set our fair P/E target in line with its historical average. Still, we note that RELX is one of the U.K.'s most consistent stocks in terms of growth with a big institutional presence. Investors have been willing to pay a premium valuation over the past few years, even during the pandemic and during 2022-2023's shaky environment. As we've mentioned in previous reports, it could be that investors won't have an opportunity to purchase RELX shares at a discount, and this continues to hold true.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

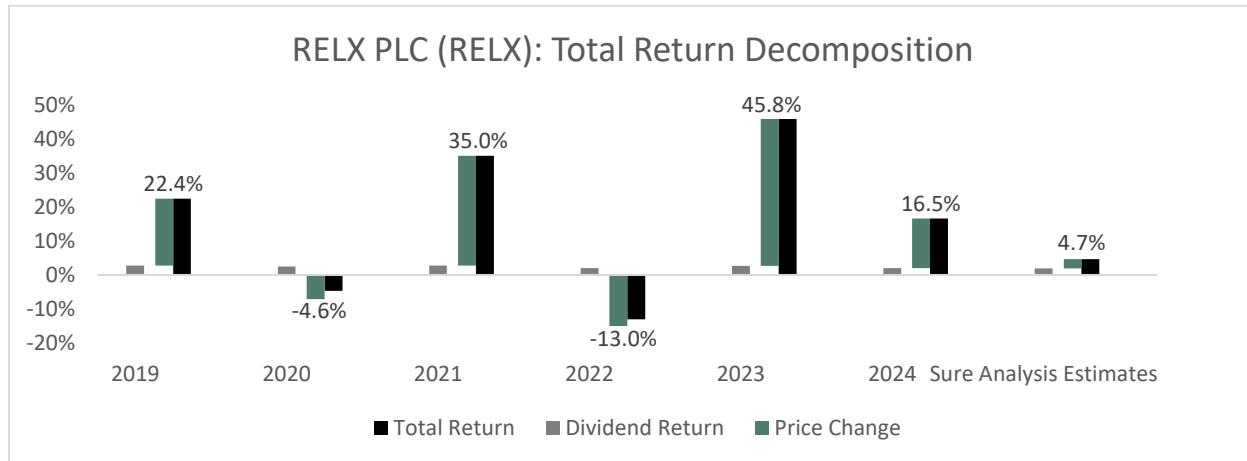

Year	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2025	2030
Payout	63%	64%	48%	59%	59%	75%	65%	64%	63%	61%	50%	50%

RELX holds a sort of legendary status in the U.K.'s investing culture, posing as one of the safest growth stocks one can own, having achieved consistent market-beating returns. With prudent capital allocation, the company secures its future advancements while growing its dividends and maintaining a healthy payout ratio. The payout ratio currently stands at a relatively comfortable level of 50%, allowing for excess cash to be allocated in future acquisitions and share repurchases. Further, while RELX's net borrowings position is at a heavy $10.1 billion, operating cash flow covers interest payments by over 10 times. Hence, we believe the company should be able to absorb rising interest rates aright. We also find RELX's ability to withstand a potential recession strong, as the need for analytics is vital to operate any modern business. The industry, however, is under heavy competition. With new technologies in the sector being developed by the day, RELX must continually innovate and acquire other companies to stay ahead of the curve.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

RELX is a well-managed company with an impressive history of shareholder value creation. We believe that EPS and DPS will continue their upward trajectory. However, we see annualized returns of just 4.7% in the medium-term, as valuation headwinds could heavily offset returns from our expected earnings growth rate of 7.5% and the 1.6% dividend yield. We rate shares a hold and we believe, that at the right price, the stock can be suitable for dividend growth portfolios looking for exposure to international equities with limited risk. Regardless, note that U.S.-based investors should be wary of FX-related risks, as the company reports its earnings in GBP.
