Overview & Current Events

City Holding Company (CHCO) serves as the holding entity for City National Bank of West Virginia, offering a comprehensive range of financial services throughout the United States. These services encompass banking, trust, and investment management, with a diverse suite of products, including checking, savings, money market accounts, certificates of deposit, and individual retirement accounts. The company's portfolio encompasses commercial and industrial loans, commercial real estate loans, residential real estate loans, home equity loans, and consumer loans. Additionally, they provide mortgage banking services and a variety of deposit and wealth management solutions for individual and commercial clients, along with modern banking technologies such as ATMs, interactive teller machines, mobile banking, and credit and debit card services.

On July 22nd, 2025, the company announced results for the second quarter of 2025. City Holding reported Q2 non-GAAP EPS of $2.29, beating the market's estimates by $0.33, and revenue of $78.4 million, which was up 3.0% year-over-year.

Net interest income rose 5.6% to $58.9 million, driven by higher loan yields, increased investment balances, and modestly lower funding costs. Net interest margin expanded to 3.95%, the highest in over a year. Credit quality also improved, with nonperforming assets down to 0.33% of loans. The company booked a $2.0 million recovery in credit losses, largely due to the upgrade of a previously downgraded credit.

Non-interest income rose to $19.2 million, supported by increases in service charges, wealth management fees, and bank-owned life insurance. Meanwhile, non-interest expenses climbed to $39.0 million, reflecting higher compensation and technology costs. Total loans grew 1.3% to $4.34 billion, led by residential and commercial real estate lending. The company repurchased 175,000 shares at an average of $111.09 and maintained a $0.79 per-share dividend. With robust capital ratios and over $130 million in available liquidity at the parent level, CHCO remains well-positioned for continued shareholder returns.

City Holding's performance reflects its focus on stability and growth, which are underpinned by its core values. With consistent non-performing asset ratios and a robust risk management strategy, the company's proactive approach to maintaining credit quality is evident. The growth of loans, notably in commercial and industrial sectors, demonstrates their value in supporting local businesses and economic development. However, the dip in commercial real estate loans suggests cautious lending practices. An increase in average depository balances mitigates the decline in period-end deposit balances, thanks to acquisitions from Citizens. Nevertheless, a decline in savings and non-interest-bearing demand deposits, counterbalanced by growth in interest-bearing demand and time balances, shows a shift in customer deposit preferences. In line with the analysts' estimates and the favorable microenvironment, we expect the company to post an EPS of $8.68 in 2025. We estimate an EPS growth of 10.0% over the next five years, leading to our estimated EPS of $13.97 by 2030. Moreover, the company has a solid record of paying dividends despite operating in a macroeconomically sensitive sector, as City Holding has paid an increasing dividend for the past 14 years. We expect the company to maintain its dividend growth and have forecasted a dividend CAGR of 5.0%, leading to a dividend of $4.03 by 2030.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	Now	2030
Avg. P/E	13.3	14.7	19.3	16.4	14.2	11.8	13.7	12.7	12.4	14.1	13.9	10.0
Avg. Yld.	3.5%	3.4%	2.6%	1.9%	2.8%	3.5%	3.0%	2.8%	2.8%	2.7%	2.6%	2.9%

The regional bank trades at a forward P/E of 13.9, higher than the long-term average P/E of 14.3 and the five-year average P/E of 12.9. Even though the higher interest rates and an uptick in the loan portfolio will benefit the company in the near term, we assign a P/E of 10.0 to the stock, which is a fair reflection of its value in our view, leading to our target price of $140 by 2030.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2025	2030
Payout	47%	50%	50%	43%	40%	41%	41%	36%	35%	38%	36%	29%

The company has paid a consistent dividend to its shareholders with a 10-year payout ratio averaging 41%, and we expect the company to maintain and increase its payout in the future. The demand for loans has recovered in recent quarters, and we expect the company to be in a much better position in the future than it is today. In addition, the margins continue to improve in the high-interest rate environment, and the net interest margin ought to be high, driven by the Fed's 'higher for longer' stance. During Q2, City Holding Company repurchased 175,000 shares at a weighted average price of $111.09, leaving 566,000 shares available under its existing buyback authorization.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

While City Holding runs an interest rate-sensitive regional banking business, increased loans and net interest margins will be a positive catalyst for EPS growth. Additionally, City Holding's dividend growth prospects could remain strong throughout the medium-term. However, we maintain our hold rating for CHCO premised upon the 5.5% annualized total returns through 2025, derived from the forecasted earnings-per-share growth of 10.0%, the 2.6% dividend yield, and a valuation headwind.
