Overview & Current Events

International Bancshares Corporation (IBOC) is a financial holding company based in Laredo, Texas. Founded in 1966, International Bancshares is a multi-bank financial holding company that provides banking and financial services through its subsidiary banks in Texas and Oklahoma. International Bancshares has a diverse customer base, including individuals, small businesses, and large corporations. International Bancshares operates in several revenue segments, including commercial and retail banking, wealth management, insurance, and international trade finance.

On August 8th, 2025, the company announced results for the second quarter of 2025. IBOC reported GAAP EPS of $1.61 and net income of $96.9 million for the quarter.

The company attributed its performance to higher interest income from its growing loan and investment portfolios, boosted by the elevated interest rate environment. Although rising deposit costs weighed on net interest income, management emphasized disciplined deposit pricing strategies to stay competitive while maintaining strong balance sheet health. Credit quality trends also improved, with lower provisions for credit losses supporting results. Total assets rose to $16.5 billion at June 30, 2025, compared to $15.7 billion at year-end, while loans increased to $9.0 billion and deposits reached $12.5 billion. CEO Dennis E. Nixon reaffirmed IBOC's focus on customer service, expense control, and prudent risk management to sustain industry-leading performance despite ongoing economic uncertainty.

The increase in interest income has been used in conjunction with cost management activities to streamline processes and boost operational efficiencies. To capture the risk of potential losses in the IBOC portfolio resulting from those uncertain economic conditions, management continued to monitor how economic conditions, including a potential recession, impact the loan portfolio and has factored those forecasts into the allowance for credit loss calculation. IBOC's loan portfolio includes commercial, real estate, personal, home improvement, automobile, and other installment and term loans. With interest rates rising, IBOC can charge higher interest rates on these loans, increasing net interest income. Furthermore, as a financial holding company, IBOC may also be able to invest in higher-yielding fixed-income securities, such as government bonds or corporate bonds, which could also boost its interest income.

Lastly, as interest rates remain high, depositors may demand higher returns on their savings, and IBOC may need to offer higher interest rates to remain competitive. Considering the current interest rate environment, we maintain our EPS estimate for 2025 of $7.00 with a projected annual EPS growth of 8.0% for the following years. This is lower than the company's CAGR of 13.8% since 2015, but leads to an EPS estimate of $10.29 by 2030. In addition, International Bancshares's DPS had a 10-year and five-year CAGR of 9.6% and 4.9%, respectively, and the company has consistently increased the dividend payments for the last 16 years.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	Now	2030
Avg. P/E	12.7	14.3	15.7	12.6	12.5	12.0	10.7	9.1	6.9	9.1	9.7	11.0
Avg. Yld.	2.2%	2.1%	1.8%	1.8%	2.7%	3.5%	2.7%	2.7%	2.8%	2.2%	2.1%	2.0%

International Bancshares trades at a forward P/E of 9.7 lower than its long- and medium-term average P/E of 11.6 and 9.6, respectively. Considering the bank's resiliency, we have assumed a stable P/E of 11.0 to value the stock by 2030, suggesting a target price of $113.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2025	2030
Payout	28%	30%	28%	23%	34%	42%	29%	25%	19%	20%	20%	22%

International Bancshares has a competitive advantage due to its strong presence in the Texas border region and Mexico, which allows it to serve a diverse and growing customer base. During the 2008 recession, IBOC demonstrated strong performance, with low loan losses and stable earnings, indicating its resilience to economic downturns. Additionally, IBOC has maintained a conservative approach to debt management, with a low debt-to-equity ratio, indicating a solid financial position and ability to weather market fluctuations. IBOC has consistently raised its dividend over the past 16 years, with a stable payout ratio of around 28%, suggesting that the bank can potentially continue to increase its dividend distributions in the rising interest rate environment. Between April 1st and August 4th, 2025, the company repurchased 97,050 shares, or 0.16%, for $8.56 million, completing the buyback announced on March 14th, 2025.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

Looking ahead, International Bancshares is well-positioned to benefit from strong economy in the U.S. and the Texas border region, where the bank has a significant presence. Additionally, IBOC's exposure to the Mexican market provides an additional growth opportunity as the country continues to be a key trading partner with the U.S. and experiences economic growth. Thus, we maintain our buy rating premised upon the 12.5% annualized total returns for the medium-term, derived from the forecasted earnings-per-share growth of 8.0%, 2.1% dividend yield, and multiple expansion.
