Overview & Current Events

In 1910, German American Bancorp, Inc. began in Jasper, Indiana, a community with a rich history of German American heritage (thus the company name). That serves as the holding company for its German American Bank subsidiary.

The community bank provides a variety of services to customers across the following subsidiaries:

1. German American Bank: This subsidiary offers deposit products like savings and checking accounts, certificates of deposit, and money market accounts. It also provides loan products to customers, such as residential mortgage loans, agricultural loans, and commercial loans.
2. German American Investment Services, Inc.: The subsidiary provides customers with investment advisory, trust, brokerage, and retirement planning services.

As part of its growth strategy, GABC occasionally executes bolt-on acquisitions. In February, GABC completed its acquisition of Heartland Bancorp (HLAN). This bank has 20 retail banking offices in Columbus, Ohio, and Greater Cincinnati - two of the Midwest's fastest-growing markets. At the closing of the transaction, HLAN had $1.9 billion in total assets. As of September 30th, 2025, GABC had $8.4 billion in total assets.

On October 27th, GABC shared its earnings report for the third quarter ended September 30th, 2025. The company's net interest income soared 55.8% over the year-ago period to $75.7 million in the quarter. Once again, this growth was mostly fueled by the deal for HLAN. Growth also increased because the net interest margin expanded by 59 basis points year-over-year to 4.06%. GABC's non-interest income climbed by 33.5% over the year-ago period to $18.4 million for the quarter, which was also driven by the company's latest acquisition. GABC's diluted EPS surged 32.4% higher year-over-year to $0.94 in the quarter. For more perspective, that beat the analyst consensus during the quarter by $0.07.

Growth on a Per-Share Basis

Year	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2025	2030
EPS	$1.51	$1.57	$1.67	$1.99	$2.29	$2.34	$3.17	$2.78	$2.91	$2.83	$2.99	$4.39
DPS	$0.45	$0.48	$0.52	$0.60	$0.68	$0.76	$0.84	$0.92	$1.00	$1.08	$1.16	$1.63
Shares¹	19.9	22.9	22.9	25.0	26.7	26.5	26.6	29.5	29.6	29.7	37.5	40.8

Over the last decade, GABC has grown adjusted EPS by a high single-digit rate annually. We still believe that earnings growth will be comparable in the years ahead (growing 8% annually off an anticipated 2025 base of $2.99). This is because GABC's net interest margin improved by 14 basis points sequentially in Q3 2025. Unlocking further efficiencies with HLAN and executing further bolt-on acquisitions remain two positives moving forward. In January, the company announced its latest dividend increase, raising the payment by 7.4% to $1.16/share per year, extending its dividend growth streak to 13 years.

¹Share count is in millions.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2025	2030
Avg. P/E	14.7	22.3	21.2	14.0	15.4	14.1	12.3	13.4	11.1	14.2	13.0	14.0
Avg. Yld.	2.0%	1.4%	1.5%	2.2%	1.9%	2.3%	2.2%	2.5%	3.1%	2.7%	3.0%	2.6%

Since 2015, GABC’s P/E ratio has ranged from as little as the low double-digits to as much as the high 20s. Over that time, the average P/E ratio was 15.3. Overall, we still believe GABC’s growth profile is intact. This is why we maintain that its fair value multiple is around 14. The community bank’s current-year multiple of 13 implies that shares are somewhat discounted.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2025	2030
Payout	30%	31%	31%	30%	30%	32%	26%	33%	34%	38%	39%	37%

GABC stands out from its peers with its 115-year operating history. This extensive corporate history has allowed it to build deep and meaningful relationships with existing customers. Thanks to this reputation, prospective customers are also more likely to become customers.

GABC’s asset quality is also respectable. As of September 30th, 2025, the company’s nonperforming assets were 0.28% of its portfolio (a two-basis point improvement sequentially). GABC’s Common Tier 1 or CET1 ratio was 13.3% (up 30 basis points sequentially), which exceeds the Federal Reserve Board’s minimum of 4.5%. That suggests the bank’s financial position is vigorous.

GABC’s payout ratio still looks positioned to be in the high 30% to low-40% range for 2025. This sets the bank up to keep increasing its dividends in the coming years.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

GABC’s 3.0% dividend yield, 8.0% annual diluted EPS growth prospects, and 1.5% annual valuation multiple expansion could deliver 12.1% annual total returns through 2030. Consequently, we’re sticking with our Buy rating.
