Overview & Current Events

RGC Resources, Inc. (RGCO) operates as a distributor and seller of natural gas to industrial, commercial, and residential customers through its subsidiaries: Roanoke Gas, Midstream, and Diversified Energy. Residential customers are the company's largest customer segment, accounting for ~58% of the total revenues, followed by commercial customers at 34%. The company operates in three segments: Gas Utility, the key revenue generator; Investment in Affiliates; and Parent & Other. The company was founded in 1883 and generates just under $100 million in annual revenue.

On November 19th, 2025, RGC Resources announced its fourth quarter results. The company posted Q4 non-GAAP EPS of -$0.02, beating the market's estimate by $0.03, and total revenues of $14.32 million.

RGC Resources reported solid full-year results for fiscal 2025, with consolidated earnings rising to $13.3 million compared with $11.8 million from last year. The improvement was driven by record gas deliveries during one of the coldest winters in the past decade, which supported higher operating margins across the utility business. These gains were partially offset by inflationary cost pressures and lower equity earnings from the Company's investment in the Mountain Valley Pipeline, which benefited from construction-related allowances in fiscal 2024. Management also highlighted continued investment in utility infrastructure to support customer growth and system reliability.

Quarterly results reflected the seasonal nature of the business. For the fourth quarter ended September 30th, 2025, the Company reported a modest net loss of $204,000, or $0.02 per share, compared with net income of $141,000, or $0.01 per share, a year earlier, primarily due to higher expenses in a typically weaker demand period. During the year, RGC successfully refinanced and extended the maturity of RGC Midstream's debt, strengthening its financial flexibility.

Management emphasized confidence in the Company's long-term direction, citing disciplined infrastructure investment, operational execution, and a focus on maintaining reliable service while navigating inflation and broader energy market uncertainties.

RGC Resources is highly dependent on Roanoke Gas' natural gas distribution business, which accounts for more than 98% of the firm's total revenues. The continued demand for natural gas ensures that the company is stable with consistent financial performance over time. Although the net loss posted in fiscal 2022 may reflect otherwise, it is essential to consider the earnings and dividend growth posted by the company over time and that the net loss was due to an impairment charge related to the Mountain Valley Pipeline.

The company is expected to continue its growth trajectory in the coming years owing to a strong demand for natural gas as it remains the cheapest heat source compared with electricity and fuel. However, it is also important to realize that the company operates in a highly regulated industry, and its topline remains highly dependent on gas costs, consumption patterns, and weather/economic conditions. The increase or decrease in gas prices is passed on to customers through the PGA mechanism, which means that sometimes, regulators do not allow price increases.

We have matched analysts' EPS estimate for 2026 at $1.31. We continue to forecast EPS growth of 6.0% as this aligns with the company's long-term average, leading to our EPS estimate of $1.75 for 2031. In addition, the company will likely grow its dividends at a healthy pace, and we have assumed a dividend growth rate of 6.0% for the next five years.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2025	Now	2031
Avg. P/E	19.1	28.7	28.2	26.3	19.2	18.8	-6.6	18.7	17.7	16.5	16.8	20.0

RGC Resources is trading at a forward P/E of 16.8, slightly below its ten-year average of 18.9. We have assumed a target P/E of 20.0 to value the company by 2031. We believe the higher multiple reflects the growth pathway for the company going forward, leading to our five-year price target of $35.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2025	2026	2031
Payout	67%	67%	65%	61%	54%	61%	-22%	69%	69%	64%	66%	66%

RGC Resources has maintained a healthy payout ratio and has increased the dividends at a CAGR of 5.4% from 2015 to 2024. The company has continuously paid regularly scheduled cash dividends for the past 78 years and has increased dividend payments over the past 21 years. The company's consistently high payout ratio reflects the ability of RGC Resources, Inc. to generate sufficient cash flow in all business cycles. In addition, RGC Resources, Inc. would not be overly affected by a possible recession since gas is a utility product that is generally considered a necessity, especially in winter, which keeps the demand alive for the company despite the state of the economy.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

Despite being a utility company that operates in a highly regulated sector, RGC Resources has demonstrated mostly steady growth. Owing to natural gas demand and the company's extensive record of solid execution, we believe that RGC Resources will continue delivering value to shareholders through continued dividends and consistent profitability. We rate shares as a hold, premised upon the 12.8% annualized total returns for the medium-term, due to our forecasted earnings-per-share growth of 6.0%, the 4.0% dividend yield, a valuation tailwind, and a moderate dividend risk score.
