Overview & Current Events

Medtronic is the largest manufacturer of biomedical devices and implantable technologies in the world. It serves physicians, hospitals, and patients in more than 150 countries and has over 95,000 employees. Medtronic has four operating segments: Cardiovascular, Medical Surgical, Neuroscience and Diabetes. Medtronic has raised its dividend for 47 consecutive years. The $125 billion market cap company generated $34 billion in revenue in its last fiscal year.

Prospective Medtronic investors should note that the company has established tax residence in Ireland. Dividends are considered Irish source income and Irish dividend withholding tax may automatically be applied to Medtronic's dividend payments. Many investors will qualify for an exemption from this withholding tax.

In mid-February, Medtronic reported (2/17/26) results for the third quarter of fiscal 2026. Organic revenue grew 6% over the prior year's quarter thanks to strong growth in Cardiovascular and Diabetes. Due to increased selling and administrative expenses, earnings-per-share dipped -2%, from $1.39 to $1.36, but exceeded the analysts' consensus by $0.05. In addition, Medtronic reiterated its guidance for 5.5% growth of organic revenue and earnings-per-share of $5.62-$5.66 in fiscal 2026. We still expect earnings-per-share of $5.64 in fiscal 2026. Medtronic has beaten the analysts' estimates in 28 of the last 31 quarters.

Growth on a Per-Share Basis

Year	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2025	2026	2031
EPS	$4.34	$4.60	$4.77	$5.22	$4.59	$4.44	$5.55	$5.29	$5.20	$5.49	$5.64	$7.55
DPS	$1.52	$1.72	$1.84	$2.00	$2.16	$2.32	$2.52	$2.72	$2.77	$2.81	$2.84	$3.62
Shares²	1,399	1,369	1,354	1,341	1,352	1,354	1,345	1,333	1,325	1,288	1,250	1,200

Medtronic has grown its earnings-per-share by only 2.8% per year on average over the last nine years. This is a low growth rate but it has partly resulted from temporary headwinds, such as high cost inflation and supply chain issues.

The company has reduced its share count by only -1% per year on average over the last nine years. Moving forward, we anticipate that share repurchases will continue to aid bottom line growth to a small degree. In addition, Medtronic's pipeline in new treatments could lead to further market share gains.

The pandemic formed a headwind for Medtronic, especially with the deferral of elective procedures, but the company has proved resilient in the last four years, with record earnings in 2022. Medtronic benefits from long-term healthcare trends. Moreover, we expect business performance to improve as soon as supply chain issues ease and cost inflation moderates. Overall, we expect Medtronic to grow its earnings-per-share by 6.0% per year on average until 2031.

Medtronic plc (MDT)

Updated February 17th, 2026, by Aristofanis Papadatos

Excluding the years 2020 and 2021, in which shares of Medtronic had an abnormally high price-to-earnings ratio due to low earnings, shares have traded hands at an average price-to-earnings ratio of 17.0 over the last decade. We believe that this is a fair valuation baseline, taking into consideration the quality of the company and average growth prospects. The stock is currently trading at an earnings multiple of 17.2. If it trades at fair valuation level in five years, it will incur a -0.2% annualized drag in its returns.

Medtronic has an exceptional dividend growth record, with 47 consecutive years of dividend growth. It has grown its dividend by 9.7% per year on average over the last decade and by 5.6% per year on average over the last 5 years, though the last two dividend raises were only 1.5% and 1.4%. The 3.5% dividend yield is not spectacular, but investors should be encouraged by the safety and growth over time.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2025	2026	2031
Payout	35%	37%	39%	38%	47%	52%	45%	51%	53%	51%	50%	48%

Medtronic's most compelling competitive advantage is its intellectual leadership in a complicated industry within the healthcare sector. Medtronic also has a strong product pipeline that should drive its growth for the foreseeable future. In the Great Recession, Medtronic proved resilient, with earnings-per-share of $2.61, $2.92, $3.22, $3.37, and $3.46 during the 2007 through 2011 stretch. In addition, the dividend kept on rising every year as well. While the payout ratio has been climbing from 25% in 2009 to 50% today, there is still ample room for dividend growth combined with share repurchases. Moreover, Medtronic has a rock-solid balance sheet, which is essential during downturns.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

From a quality, earnings and dividend growth standpoint, Medtronic is fairly attractive. The stock could offer an 8.3% total annual return over the next five years thanks to 6.0% growth of earnings-per-share and its 3.5% dividend, partly offset by a -0.2% potential valuation headwind. We maintain our hold rating.
