Overview & Current Events

Fortis is Canada's largest investor-owned utility business with operations in Canada, the United States, and the Caribbean. It is cross-listed in Toronto and New York. Fortis trades with a current after-tax yield of 2.8% (about 3.3% before the 15% withholding tax applied by the Canadian government). Unless otherwise noted, US$ is used in this report. Fortis is virtually 100% regulated with ~82% regulated electric and ~17% regulated gas. As well, ~64% of its assets are in the U.S., ~33% in Canada, and ~3% in the Caribbean. About 93% of its assets are for transmission and distribution of electricity or gas, which provide essential services, leading to resilient earnings through the economic cycle.

Fortis reported Q4 2025 results on 02/12/26. For the quarter, it reported adjusted net earnings of CAD$453 million, up 8.9% versus Q4 of 2024, while adjusted net earnings-per-share (EPS) came in at C$0.90, up 8.4%.

The full-year results provide a bigger picture. Adjusted net earnings rose 9.3% to CAD$1.8 billion, while adjusted net EPS rose 7.6% to C$3.53. Capital spending was C$5.6 billion, up 7.0% year over year. We initiate our 2026 EPS estimate at $2.68.

Growth on a Per-Share Basis

Year	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2025	2026	2031
EPS	$1.78	$2.02	$1.89	$1.92	$2.02	$2.04	$2.08	$2.30	$2.28	$2.58	$2.68	$3.50
DPS	$1.15	$1.25	$1.33	$1.38	$1.44	$1.64	$1.67	$1.69	$1.74	$1.77	$1.85	$2.31
Shares¹	401	421	429	447	465	471	479	489	499	504	507	540

Fortis compounded its EPS at 4.7% and dividend per share ("DPS") at 5.6% per year from 2016 to 2025 as measured in CAD$. Notably, the picture doesn't look as rosy from a US$ perspective. When converted to US$, it compounded its EPS by 4.2% and DPS by 4.9% per year in this period. Fortis capital plan for 2026 to 2030 is C$28.8. This figure suggests that the firm's mid-year rate base can increase at a 7% compounded annual growth rate, from C$41.9 billion in 2025 to C$57.9 billion in 2030. The company also maintained its dividend growth guidance of 4-6% through 2030. We use 5.5% and 4.5% for our EPS and DPS estimates, respectively, through 2031.

The 2026-2030 capital plan includes 46% in transmission projects, 31% in distribution, 7% in generation, and 5% in renewable gas and liquefied natural gas. 100% is regulated capital, 21% are major projects. Geographically, 63% is in the U.S., 35% Canada, and 2% Caribbean. Importantly, this growth rate does not include the impact of acquisitions, which have historically been important for Fortis.

Additionally, the utility tends to use equity offerings (including its dividend reinvestment plan) as a source of capital to pay down debt or make acquisitions, resulting in a steadily rising number of outstanding common shares. Our estimates account for a steady rise in the share count, also including future acquisitions. Fortis will grow its green investments steadily, as the regulated utility aims to reduce its carbon emissions 50% by 2030 and 75% by 2035 as compared to 2019.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2025	Now	2031
Avg. P/E	28.1	40.6	21.2	19.9	20.0	21.7	21.7	18.8	18.0	19.9	21.1	19.0
Avg. Yld.	3.1%	3.1%	2.9%	3.1%	3.5%	3.5%	3.6%	4.1%	4.2%	3.7%	3.3%	3.5%

Fortis stock averaged a P/E of 23 from 2016-2025, but the average multiple drops to 21 when removing the 2017 outlier. We think a P/E of 19 is fair. Using our 2026 EPS estimate, Fortis trades at a price-to-earnings ratio of 21.1, which makes shares slightly expensive. Fortis is currently trading with a dividend yield of 3.3% (excluding the withholding tax paid to the Canadian government). This North American utility offers a reliable dividend stream.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2025	2026	2031
Payout	65%	62%	70%	72%	71%	80%	80%	73%	76%	69%	69%	66%

Because demand for Fortis's utility services doesn't change much in various economic environments, Fortis's results have been quite resilient through economic uncertainties, including the one we're experiencing in which inflation and interest rates are higher than recent history. Fortis maintains an investment-grade credit rating. Its S&P credit rating stands at A- currently. Fortis' payout ratio had been typically under 80% of earnings, with it set to come in around 70% in 2026. The dividend is important to management, and we believe it is safe and should continue to rise for years to come. Fortis' competitive advantages are its size, scale, and diversity. Fortis is unique because of its cross-border exposure. Its timely U.S. acquisitions of regulated utilities since 2013 have allowed Fortis to generate more than half of its revenues from the United States today.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

Fortis is a quality North American regulated utility that has a leading position. We currently estimate FTS will deliver a total rate of return of 6.4% through 2031. This will come from 5.5% earnings growth, a 3.3% yield, and multiple compression of 2.1%. We rate FTS stock as a hold.
