Overview & Current Events

Northrop Grumman Corporation is one of the five largest U.S. aerospace and defense contractors based on revenue. The company reports four business segments: Aeronautics Systems (aircraft and UAVs), Mission Systems (radars, sensors and systems for surveillance and targeting), Defense Systems (sustainment and modernization, directed energy, tactical weapons), and Space Systems (missile defense, space systems, hypersonics, and space launchers). Northrop Grumman completed its acquisition of Orbital ATK in 2018 and divested IT Services in 2021. Northrop Grumman makes the B-2 Spirit, E-2D, E-8C, RQ-4 Global Hawk, MQ-4C Triton, MQ-8B/C Fire Scout, and B-21. The company also provides content on the F-35 and F/A-18. It won the contract for the GPI. The company had revenue of over $42.0B in 2025.

Northrop Grumman reported results for Q1 FY 2026 on April 21st, 2026. Companywide revenue rose 4% to $9,881M from $9,468M and diluted earnings per share (EPS) rose 85% to $6.14 from $3.32 on a year-over-year basis on higher sales in three out of four segments, greater operating margins, pension gains, and a B-21 program adjustment.

Revenue for Aeronautics Systems rose 17% to $3,283M from $2,814M in the prior year due to higher volumes on the E-130J TACAMO and B-21, offset by the F/A-18 programs. Revenue for Defense Systems grew 5% to $1,899M from $1,805M in comparable quarters due to higher sales in the Sentinel, solid rocket motor, and Battle Command System, offset by divestment of the training programs. Revenue for Mission Systems increased 2% to $2,861M in the quarter from $2,807M in the prior year due to higher volumes on restricted airborne radar and marine systems, offset by Scaled Agile Beam Radar and airborne electronic warfare programs. Revenue for Space Systems decreased 3% to $2,480M in Q1 2026 from $2,568M in Q1 2025 due to the wind down of the NGI and lower sales in the GEM 63 programs.

The total backlog reached a record of ~$95.6B at the end of the quarter of which $44.1B is funded. The firm won $9.87B in contract awards in the quarter with restricted programs leading the way.

The company kept guidance at $43.5B to $44.0B in sales and $27.40 to $27.90 adjusted earnings per share in 2026.

Growth on a Per-Share Basis

Looking forward, the company will achieve both revenue and EPS growth through its involvement in the F-35, B-2, E2-2D, B-21, GPI, and space platforms. We expect the firm's strategically important platforms to drive contract wins, the backlog and thus top and bottom line growth. These platforms will also receive upgrades and need servicing.

Our estimate of average annual EPS growth is only 6% out to 2031 due to higher costs and capital expenditures. Earnings per share growth should get a boost from continued robust share buybacks. Northrop Grumman has paid a growing dividend for 22 years. We have set our expected growth rate to 6%, matching that of EPS.

¹ Estimated based on prior years. Northrop Grumman has not yet announced the next quarterly dividend.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2025	Now	2031
Avg. P/E	17.4	23.0	16.8	17.9	13.8	13.6	18.3	20.1	18.0	21.6	20.8	18.0

Northrop Grumman's stock price is down significantly since our last report on soft guidance and higher costs. We kept our 2026 earnings estimate at the mid-point of guidance. We set our fair value multiple at 18X, which is slightly under the trailing 10-year average. Our current fair value is $498. Our current 5-year price target is $666.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2025	2026	2031
Payout	29%	34%	25%	24%	24%	25%	26%	32%	31%	34%	33%	33%

As a prime U.S. defense contractor, Northrop Grumman has an entrenched position in many of its end markets. Of note are the B-2, B-21, E-2D, E-8C, Global Hawk and Triton platforms. Few companies have the technical expertise and classified workforce to build these platforms. In addition, these platforms have decades long life cycles and Northrop Grumman has the expertise and experience to perform sustainment and modernization. These characteristics lead to a good degree of recession resistance. However, the company does face risks in program cuts and changing administrations that could lead to revenue declines caused by new priorities to the defense budget.

Debt increased due to the Orbital ATK acquisition, which the company is paying down. Current debt is $534M and long-term debt is now at $15,162M offset by $4,403M in cash and equivalents. Interest coverage is 8.64X and the leverage ratio is 1.91X.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

At present we are forecasting a 4.6% annualized total return through 2031 from a dividend yield of 1.6%, 6% EPS growth, and (-2.8%) P/E multiple contraction. Global conflicts are benefitting sales volumes as demand for rocket motors and munitions are high. Also, the firm was selected to produce the Glide Phase Interceptor (GPI), B-21 production will be increased, and the Sentinel program accelerated. The dividend yield is low, but the dividend safety is high as illustrated by the modest payout ratio and robust cash flow. We maintained our rating of this high-quality stock at a hold.
