Overview & Current Events

Somnigroup International Inc. (SGI), founded through the 2012 Tempur-Pedic and Sealy merger and rebranded in 2025 after acquiring Mattress Firm, is a leading global bedding company based in Lexington, Kentucky. With a market cap near $15 billion and around 12,000 employees, SGI generates over $5 billion in annual revenue. It operates through Tempur Sealy North America, International, and Mattress Firm segments. Its broad retail and wholesale channels span more than 100 countries, combining legacy brands with strong omnichannel reach.

On February 17th, 2026, the company announced results for the fourth quarter of 2025. The company reported Q4 non-GAAP EPS of $0.72, which were in-line with analysts' estimates.

Somnigroup International delivered a standout fourth quarter to close 2025, with consolidated net sales rising 54.7% year over year to $1.87 billion. The bulk of that growth came from the inclusion of Mattress Firm, which added $892 million in revenue, partially offset by intercompany eliminations. Profitability improved sharply alongside the top line. Gross margin expanded to 44.0%, while operating income climbed 93.7% to $247.1 million, driven by synergies, scale benefits, and improved cost discipline. Net income nearly doubled to $140.8 million, reflecting both operational leverage and a more efficient cost structure. Notably, direct-to-consumer sales now represent over 65% of total revenue, highlighting a significant shift in SGI's go-to-market strategy.

Under the surface, SGI's performance points to a business gaining traction from its strategic moves. The Mattress Firm acquisition is already contributing meaningfully, while North America margins expanded significantly due to operational efficiencies and channel realignment. International operations also posted steady growth, with sales up 13.4%, supported by broader distribution. At the same time, corporate expenses declined, reflecting lower transaction-related costs. SGI also announced a 13% increase in its quarterly cash dividend, underscoring confidence in its financial position. Looking ahead, management expects another year of growth, supported by ongoing integration benefits and a gradual recovery in the broader bedding market, even as macroeconomic uncertainties remain part of the backdrop.

Somnigroup's five-year growth looks solid, with revenue expected to climb 8% to 12% annually, boosted by Mattress Firm's integration and global expansion. Margins should improve modestly as scale efficiencies kick in. Despite recent share dilution, strong free cash flow supports steady dividends and likely buybacks.

We expect the company to post EPS of $3.22 in 2025, which is the midpoint of analysts' estimates. Also, we expect annual EPS growth of 10.0% over the next five years, leading to our estimated EPS of $5.18 by 2031. Moreover, the company has a growing record of paying dividends despite operating in a competitive healthcare sector, the company has paid an increasing dividend for the past six years. Thus, we expect the company to maintain its dividend growth and have forecasted a dividend CAGR of 8.0%, leading to a dividend of $1.00 in 2031.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2025	Now	2031
Avg. P/E	19.86	23.02	32.33	15.34	7.38	5.45	7.40	18.43	13.27	39.94	24.3	20.0

The stock trades at a forward P/E of 24.3, higher than both the long-term average P/E of 18.2 and the five-year average P/E of 16.9. Even though the rapid sales growth will benefit the company in the near term, we assign a P/E of 20.0 to the stock, which we feel is a fair reflection of its value. Accordingly, with expected EPS of $5.18 and P/E target of 20.0, our target price for the stock stands at $104 by 2031.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2025	2026	2031
Payout	0%	0%	0%	0%	0%	10%	16%	21%	24%	33%	21%	19%

SGI's resiliency stems from its strong brand portfolio, diversified global channels, and scale that cushion it against economic swings. While bedding demand can soften during recessions, the company's broad product mix, from premium mattresses to value options, helps capture shifting consumer budgets. During the Great Recession, its legacy brands weathered the downturn better than many discretionary peers, and SGI's recent expansion further spreads risk across markets. Though leverage increased post-acquisition, healthy free cash flow and reasonable interest coverage provide a solid buffer.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

While Somnigroup International runs a competitive bedding and sleep products business, successful integration and cost synergies from its Mattress Firm acquisition could further boost EPS growth. Indeed, SGI's healthy cash flow and disciplined payout ratio suggest its dividend growth prospects could stay solid for many years to come. Thus, we rate SGI as a hold premised upon the 6.7% annualized total returns for the long-term, derived from the forecasted earnings-per-share growth of 10.0%, the 0.9% dividend yield, and a valuation headwind.
