Overview & Current Events

First Financial Corporation Indiana is the holding company for First Financial Bank N.A. The company has locations in Indiana and Illinois and can trace its roots back to 1834. First Financial offers clients savings accounts, certificates of deposit and life insurance products, as well as home, automobile, agricultural and commercial loans. The company has a market capitalization of $824 million and produces about $200 million in annual revenue.

First Financial posted first quarter earnings on April 28th, 2026, and results were mixed. Earnings-per-share came to $1.67, which was three cents ahead of estimates. Revenue was up 9% year-on-year to $68.1 million, but missed estimates by $1.47 million.

Management noted the company closed the acquisition of CedarStone Financial on March 1st, acquiring loans of $292 million and deposits of $313 million.

Total loans averaged $4.16 billion during the quarter, up from $3.84 billion in the same period a year earlier, up 8.3%. Total loans outstanding were $4.42 billion, up 14.8% year-over-year, due in large part to the CedarStone acquisition.

Deposits were $4.66 billion on an average basis, and $4.84 billion at the end of the quarter. Deposits were essentially flat year-over-year, unlike loans.

The management team noted the bank passed $6 billion in total assets for the first time, and that this was the 10th consecutive quarter of loan growth. Net interest margin was 4.23% and credit quality was noted as remaining strong.

We see $7.35 in adjusted earnings-per-share for this year, which would comfortably be a record, if achieved.

First Financial saw its earnings decrease just 8.5% from 2008 to 2009 – an excellent performance compared to many financial companies. In recent years, First Financial has seen earnings-per-share fluctuate rather wildly. For example, earnings-per-share declined in 2012, 2013, 2015, 2017, 2023, and 2024. The company has an earnings-per-share growth rate of 9% per year over the past decade, but most of that accrued in 2025 only. We see tailwinds and headwinds somewhat offsetting each other, mostly from higher loan balances and higher rates, but the potential for higher credit losses. First Financial could also see a margin tailwind from lower expenses relative to revenue. We forecast earnings-per-share growth of 4% for the foreseeable future given these factors, and the record base for 2026.

First Financial now pays its dividend each quarter, rather than semi-annually. The company has raised its dividend an average of 1.5% per year over the past ten years. First Financial issued a special dividend of $1.50 per share on 10/20/2017, though this is not a common occurrence and should not be expected to recur in the future. We are targeting a sub-35% payout ratio going forward for First Financial, translating to a $2.47 dividend potentially for 2031. We note three annual raises after the payout was cut a couple of years ago.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2025	Now	2031
Avg. P/E	12.2	18.4	14.2	11.1	9.2	10.6	7.9	8.5	11.6	9.0	9.4	10.0
Avg. Yld.	2.6%	2.3%	2.2%	2.4%	2.9%	2.5%	2.3%	2.3%	3.9%	3.4%	3.2%	2.8%

Based off estimates for 2026, shares have a forward price-to-earnings ratio of 9.4. First Financial's stock has traded with an average multiple of less than 12 over the past ten years. We peg fair value at 10 due to low sector valuations and the company's own uninspiring growth outlook. We see a small positive impact on total returns from the valuation as the stock is slightly undervalued.

First Financial had increased its dividend for the past 34 years, but made a surprising cut at the end of 2023. We have assumed a modest dividend growth rate given the spotty recent history.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2025	2026	2031
Payout	32%	42%	27%	27%	27%	26%	18%	19%	45%	31%	30%	28%

While earnings did decline in 2009, First Financial managed to weather the last recession well. Earnings recovered above 2008's earnings-per-share total in 2010. Since then, the company has experienced varied earnings growth. Investors looking for consistent earnings growth will likely be disappointed by First Financial.

If First Financial has a competitive advantage, it is the bank's presence in its small home markets. In addition, its net interest margin is very high compared to other banks. However, First Financial doesn't have any sort of competitive moat from its business model as it competes in the same ways every other small bank does.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

After Q1 results, we anticipate that First Financial Corporation Indiana could offer 8% returns through 2031, flat from our last update. Total returns would be based on 4% earnings growth, the 3.2% yield, and a 1.3% tailwind from the valuation. We are reiterating our hold rating.
