Overview & Current Events

CDW Corporation is a leading provider of technology solutions for business, government, education, and healthcare sectors. Established in 1984 and headquartered in Vernon Hills, Illinois, CDW offers a broad portfolio of products and services, including hardware, software, networking, cloud computing, and IT consulting. The company serves a wide range of customers, from small businesses to large enterprises, by helping them implement and manage IT infrastructure. CDW's business model revolves around partnering with major technology vendors, such as Cisco, Microsoft, and Dell, allowing it to deliver comprehensive solutions to its client. It has consistently reported strong financial performance, driven by growing demand for digital transformation, cloud services, and cybersecurity solutions. The company continues to expand both organically and through M&A to broaden its capabilities and market reach.

CDW Corporation reported its first-quarter earnings on May 6th, 2026. The company reported first-quarter 2026 net sales of $5.68 billion, up 9.2% year-over-year, beating estimates. GAAP net income rose 4.7% to $235 million, or $1.82 per diluted share. Non-GAAP net income increased 3.1% to $295 million, or $2.28 per share. Gross profit grew 6.0% to $1.19 billion, while non-GAAP operating income rose 1.8% to $452 million. Gross margin was 21.0%, down 60 basis points from the prior year due to mix shifts.

The Commercial segment led growth with net sales up 9.6%, driven by strong demand in Financial Services (+28.2%). Government and Education segments increased 4.6% and 2.5%, respectively. International operations (UK and Canada) grew 17.9%. Results reflected higher customer demand for data storage, servers, netcomm products, software, and notebooks, supported by improving spending trends across end markets.

CEO Christine Leahy highlighted CDW's role as a trusted advisor helping customers scale AI initiatives, supported by its full-stack capabilities and diversified portfolio. The company returned capital through a quarterly dividend of $0.630 per share and maintained disciplined execution amid economic uncertainty. CDW remains confident in outperforming the U.S. IT market by 200–300 basis points on a constant currency basis.

CDW Corporation's growth prospects remain strong, driven by increasing demand for digital transformation, cloud computing, and cybersecurity solutions across its key sectors: business, government, education, and healthcare. The company is well-positioned to capitalize on IT market trends, leveraging its partnerships with major technology vendors and expanding through strategic acquisitions. Over the past ten years, earnings have grown a CAGR of 12.6%. However, it has slowed down over the past five year to a CAGR of 5.9%. We expect the company to continue this growth rate of 7% over the next five years. We also expect the company to grow its dividend at an 7% annual rate going forward.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2025	2026	2031
Avg. P/E	15.2	18.2	15.5	23.6	19.6	25.7	18.3	23.0	18.3	13.3	12.3	18.0
Avg. Yld.	0.9%	1.0%	1.1%	0.9%	1.2%	0.8%	1.2%	1.1%	1.4%	1.8%	1.9%	1.3%

The company looks undervalued at the current price. The current PE of 12.3x is lower than the past ten years average of 19.1x. We think that a PE of 18x is fair for this company. Thus, at the current price, there is a valuation tailwind of 7.8%.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

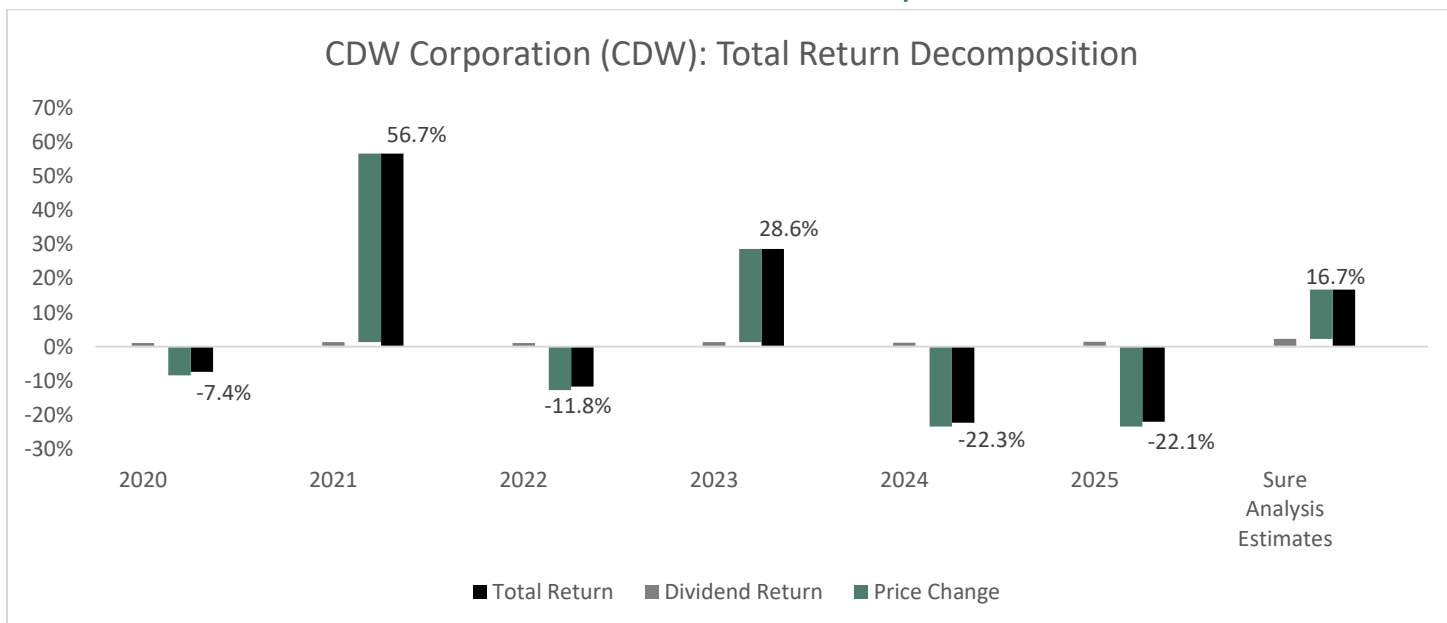

Year	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2025	2026	2031
Payout	14%	18%	18%	21%	23%	21%	21%	24%	26%	25%	24%	24%

CDW's competitive advantage lies in its extensive portfolio of technology solutions, strong partnerships with leading technology vendors, and its ability to offer tailored IT solutions to a wide range of clients, from small businesses to large enterprises. The company's deep expertise in cloud computing, security, and networking, combined with its consultative approach, enables it to serve as a trusted advisor to its customers. Its diverse customer base across industries such as business, government, healthcare, and education also provide stability, even during economic fluctuations. The company has a debt-to-equity ratio of 1.8, which is a good level, and it does cover the interest by 7.3 times. Currently, the company has an investment grade rating of BBB- from S&P Credit rating.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

Investing in CDW Corporation carries risks related to economic downturns, which can lead to reduced IT spending by businesses, government, and other sectors. The company also faces competitive pressures from both large technology vendors and smaller niche players in the IT solutions space. Additionally, shifts in technology trends or customer preferences, such as rapid changes in cloud or cybersecurity needs, could impact its ability to maintain growth and profitability. Thus, at the current price, we rate the stock as a buy because of the expected five-year annual return of 16.7%.
