Overview & Current Events

JBT Bancorp is a long-standing, independent community bank holding company based in Jonestown, Pennsylvania, with a history spanning over 150 years. Through its wholly owned subsidiary, Jonestown Bank & Trust Co., JBT operates 11 full-service offices and 2 limited-service offices across Lebanon, northern Lancaster, and eastern Berks counties. The bank offers a full suite of financial products and services, including personal and business checking and savings accounts, term certificates, residential mortgages, commercial loans, consumer loans, and specialized services such as treasury management and cannabis banking. The bank currently trades at a market cap of $95 million.

On July 15th, 2026, JBT Bancorp reported its Q2 results for the period ending June 30th, 2026. The company posted quarterly earnings of $3.73 million, or $1.53 per share, compared with $2.17 million, or $0.89 per share, in Q2 2025.

JBT Bancorp also declared a quarterly dividend of $0.35 per share payable on July 31st, 2026. This marks the fourth consecutive quarterly dividend increase, implying a 6.1% QoQ increase and a 29.6% YoY increase. For FY2026, we now expect EPS of $5.20.

Growth on a Per-Share Basis

Year	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2025	2026	2031
EPS	$1.93	$1.93	$2.07	$2.25	$2.10	$2.65	$3.31	$3.20	$3.10	$4.11	$5.20	$6.96
DPS	$0.64	$0.68	$0.72	$0.76	$0.80	$0.84	$0.88	$0.99	$1.02	$1.14	$1.40	$1.87
Shares[1]	2.3	2.3	2.3	2.4	2.4	2.4	2.4	2.4	2.4	2.4	2.4	2.4

JBT's EPS has grown quite consistently over the past decade, and at a rather respectable rate. Its five and 10-year CAGRs stand at 11.2% an 8.8%, respectively. Notably, no M&A has taken place in recent years, and all growth has been driven organically. More specifically, from $1.80 in 2015 to $2.25 by 2019, steady EPS gains were driven by organic growth in commercial and consumer lending, controlled expenses, and expanding community banking services.

EPS dipped slightly to $2.10 in 2020 due to pandemic-related challenges, despite the bank's active role in PPP lending to support local businesses. The strong recovery in 2021 and 2022, with EPS rising to $2.65 and $3.31 respectively, was fueled by loan portfolio expansion, particularly in indirect auto and commercial lending, margin improvement during a rising rate environment, and continued growth in non-interest income streams, including cannabis banking.

In 2023, EPS declined slightly to $3.20 as margin pressures emerged from deposit competition and higher funding costs, compounded by economic headwinds and elevated charge-offs in indirect auto lending. EPS softened further to $3.10 in 2024 amid continued pressure on funding costs and higher charge-offs, particularly in the indirect auto portfolio.

Moving forward, we believe the company can continue to grow at roughly 6% per annum, driven by disciplined loan growth in core commercial and consumer segments, and continued expansion of its niche cannabis banking services. We have set the same rate in our dividend growth forecast, which matches the company's average growth rate as well.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2025	Now	2031
Avg. P/E	8.9	10.0	10.1	10.3	11.2	9.0	7.6	8.0	8.2	6.8	7.6	8.0
Avg. Yld.	3.7%	3.5%	3.4%	3.3%	3.4%	3.5%	3.5%	3.9%	4.0%	4.1%	3.5%	3.4%

JBT Bancorp's P/E has stayed modest over the years, reflecting steady earnings and typical community bank valuations. The multiple rose in 2020 as earnings dipped, then compressed as strong earnings in 2021–2022 outpaced the stock. It remained around 8x in 2023–2024 as higher funding costs and economic uncertainty kept valuations conservative, and contracted further in 2025, possibility to declining rates despite its strong results. We believe the company is slightly undervalued at roughly 7.6x earnings today. We have set our fair multiple at 8x EPS.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2025	2026	2031
Payout	33%	35%	35%	34%	38%	32%	27%	31%	33%	28%	27%	27%

JBT Bancorp's competitive edge lies in its deep community roots, personalized customer service, and niche expertise in areas like cannabis banking, which differentiates it from many peers. Its strong credit culture, disciplined loan growth, and focus on relationship banking help sustain client loyalty and stable performance across cycles. The banking industry is inherently cyclical and sensitive to market downturns, as seen during the pandemic and in recent periods of funding cost pressures. However, JBT's conservative balance sheet, diversified loan portfolio, and commitment to prudent risk management have historically provided resilience through challenging economic environments. In the meantime, the dividend payout ratio stands at a very reasonable 27% of earnings. We view JTB's payouts as quite safe. Its community bank leverage ratio stood at 9.88% at the end of last year, so the bank appears well-capitalized as well.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

JBT Bancorp offers a solid investment case built on consistent earnings, strong credit quality, and a loyal customer base. Its focus on disciplined loan growth, niche services like cannabis banking, and prudent risk management positions it well for steady, long-term performance. We forecast an annualized total returns potential of 10.1%, to be driven by earnings growth of 6%, the starting dividend yield of 3.5%, and the possibility of a valuation tailwind. We rate JBT as a buy.
