Overview & Current Events

Raymond James Financial (RJF) is a financial holding company whose major operations include wealth management, investment banking, asset management, and commercial banking. Approximately 90% of the company's revenue is from the U.S., and 72% of fiscal 2025 revenue is from the company's Private Client Group (wealth management) segment. Other segments are Capital Markets (13% of revenues), Asset Management (8%), and Banking (7%). The company has more than 19,000 employees and supports 8,900 financial advisors across the United States, Canada, and the United Kingdom. The company was founded in 1962 and is headquartered in St. Petersburg, Florida.

On July 22nd, 2026, Raymond James Financial released results for its third quarter of fiscal year 2026, which ended June 30th, 2026. For the quarter, the company reported net income available to common shareholders of $595 million, up from $542 million in the preceding quarter and $435 million in the same quarter of the previous year. Earnings per diluted share were $3.01, up from $2.72 in the preceding quarter and $2.12 in the same quarter of the previous year. A lower effective tax rate supported the sequential increase in earnings, while strong asset management fees, higher investment banking activity, and record client assets contributed positively.

The Private Client Group and Asset Management segments delivered record quarterly net revenues, with market appreciation and net inflows bolstering results. Quarterly net revenues of $3.93 billion were up 16% compared to the previous year and up 2% compared to the preceding quarter. The company saw continued growth in its Private Client Group and Asset Management segments, with Private Client Group assets under administration reaching $1.86 trillion. The Private Client Group recorded year-over-year growth of 14% for net revenues, while Asset Management rose 24%, and Capital Markets net revenues increased 25%. The biggest shift was the continued improvement in Capital Markets, with investment banking revenues rising 40% year-over-year, reflecting stronger M&A and advisory, equity underwriting, and debt underwriting activity. The Bank segment's net revenues rose 7%, and pre-tax income increased 67%. Financial assets under management increased to $345.0 billion, including $36 billion contributed by the Clark Capital acquisition completed during the quarter. As of June 30th, 2026, the total capital ratio was 22.5%, and the Tier 1 capital ratio was 21.6%, both lower compared to March 2026.

Looking ahead, Raymond James remains optimistic, supported by historically strong business drivers, robust financial advisor recruiting activity, a strong investment banking pipeline, and continued momentum in Private Client Group and Asset Management. While the company did not provide formal quantitative guidance, the firm remains well-positioned, with ample capital and liquidity to support continued growth.

Raymond James Financial (RJF)

Updated July 25th, 2026, by Sure Dividend Analyst

The company has grown earnings by 17.4% per year over the past decade and 11.3% over the past five years. We expect earnings to increase by 10% per year for the next five years. The company has been able to increase its yearly dividend payout for 14 consecutive years. Over the last five years, the average annual dividend growth rate is 15.7%. In December 2025, the company increased its quarterly dividend by 8% from $0.50 to $0.54 per share. In market downturns, the company's management strives to maintain its most recent dividend, if feasible. During the quarter, RJF repurchased approximately 2.6 million shares for $400 million, with $1.1 billion remaining under the buyback authorization as of June 30th, 2026.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2025	Now	2031
Avg. P/E	14.3	14.7	14.1	11.1	12.8	10.9	12.0	11.0	12.0	15.0	14.0	13.0
Avg. Yld.	1.9%	1.2%	1.2%	1.7%	1.9%	1.3%	1.4%	1.5%	1.5%	1.2%	1.3%	1.6%

During the past decade shares of Raymond James Financial have traded with an average price-to-earnings ratio of 12.8 times earnings and today, it stands at 14.0. We are using 13.0 times earnings as a fair value baseline, implying the potential for a valuation headwind. The company's dividend yield is currently 1.3%, which is just below the average yield over the past decade of 1.4%.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2025	2026	2031
Payout	22%	17%	17%	18%	24%	15%	18%	21%	19%	19%	18%	21%

During the past five years, the company's dividend payout ratio has averaged around 19%. Raymond James Financial's dividend is comfortably covered by earnings. Given the expected earnings growth, there is room for the dividend to continue to grow at least at the same pace and keep the payout ratio around the same levels which is safe.

Raymond James' revenue and earnings have remained resilient through the current bear market and past recessions. The company has an impressive record of over 140 consecutive quarters of profitability and maintains strong credit ratings (A-/Stable Outlook from Fitch). Its diverse and complementary business mix allows it to leverage capabilities across segments. The firm continues to position itself as the "Premier Alternative" to Wall Street. Raymond James has a proven track record of efficient growth through acquisitions. In June 2022, it completed its $1.1 billion acquisition of TriState Capital Holdings Inc. The acquisition of Clark Capital was completed during the quarter and contributed $36 billion of AUM. We expect the company to continue using its free cash flow for M&A activity, though likely at a more selective pace focused on strategic fit.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

Raymond James Financial is a well-established capital markets company with a solid earnings track record and a dividend yield of 1.3%. The company should be able to grow client assets under management organically and via acquisitions. We estimate total return potential of 9.6% per year for the next five years based on a 10% earnings-per-share growth, the dividend yield, and a valuation headwind. Shares earn a hold rating as they are somewhat overvalued at the moment.
