Overview & Current Events

Tracing its roots back to a partnership founded in 1890, Stifel Financial Corp. (SF) is a global wealth management and investment banking company with a rich corporate history. As of Jun. 30, 2026, SF had $580.1 billion in client assets under management. The company operates the following three segments:

1. Global Wealth Management: The Global Wealth Management segment's thousands of financial advisors provide clients with financial planning services and insurance and annuity products. The segment also offers asset management services to institutions, private clients, and investment advisers. The Stifel Bancorp business provides retail and commercial banking services to private and corporate clients, including personal loans, commercial real estate loans, and credit cards.
2. Institutional Group: The Institutional Group segment offers research services, investment banking activities like the execution of public offerings and debt placements, and public finance services for various bonds issued by states and cities.
3. Other: The Other segment is comprised of interest income from stock borrowing activities, interest income and gains, and losses from held investments.

In April 2025, the company announced that it had completed the hiring of 36 advisors from B. Riley, representing roughly $4 billion in AUM. This is the latest example of a bolt-on acquisition that we think can help SF continue to meet its clients' evolving needs.

On Jul. 22, SF shared its financial results for the second quarter ended Jun. 30, 2026. The company's net revenue climbed 13% over the year-ago period to $1.45 billion in the quarter. Capital markets appreciation resulted in a 12.3% year-over-year rise in total client assets during the quarter. SF's non-GAAP diluted EPS jumped 24.6% over the year-ago period to $1.42 for the quarter. That was $0.06 ahead of the analyst consensus in the quarter. As a reminder, SF's 3:2 stock split in the form of a 50% stock dividend went into effect in late February. Readers will notice that we have adjusted all the figures in this report to reflect this event.

Growth on a Per-Share Basis

Year	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2025	2026	2031
EPS	$1.17	$1.69	$2.35	$2.71	$3.04	$4.72	$3.83	$3.12	$4.54	$5.28	$6.25	$10.07
DPS	-	$0.09	$0.21	$0.27	$0.30	$0.40	$0.80	$0.96	$1.12	$1.23	$1.36	$2.19

Over the past decade, SF's non-GAAP diluted EPS has compounded by about 18% annually. Looking ahead, we believe that non-GAAP diluted EPS growth will grow 10.0% annually through 2031, off an anticipated 2026 base of $6.25. This is backed up by the overall macro argument that economic growth helps markets move higher over time. The company also operates in an industry with opportunities for consolidation, so this gives it flexibility to execute acquisitions to generate more growth. We also expect the share count to gradually move lower over the next several years.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2025	2026	2031
Avg. P/E	19.0	15.7	7.8	9.9	11.1	10.0	10.2	14.8	15.6	15.8	12.6	13.0
Avg. Yld.	-	0.3%	1.2%	1.0%	0.9%	0.9%	2.1%	2.1%	1.6%	1.5%	1.7%	1.7%

Since 2016, SF’s P/E ratio has ranged from as little as the upper single-digits to as much as the upper teens. The average P/E ratio over that time has been around 13. Moving forward, we continue to think that this approximates SF’s fair value. That’s because the company’s growth prospects look to be intact. Compared to our fair value P/E ratio, the current year P/E ratio of 12.6 suggests SF’s stock is slightly undervalued.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2025	2026	2031
Payout	-	5%	9%	10%	10%	8%	21%	31%	25%	23%	22%	22%

Operating for 136 years, Stifel is a trusted player in its industry. Couple that with the results that it delivers, and this has translated into a loyal and expanding client base. That is how SF’s non-GAAP diluted EPS has grown at a double-digit annual pace over the last decade.

The company is also financially sound. SF’s Tier 1 risk-based capital ratio of 17.3% in Q2 2026 was only a 20 basis point deterioration over Q2 2025. This explains its respective credit ratings of BBB and BBB+ from S&P and Fitch, and both agencies assign stable rating outlooks.

The company’s dividend payout ratio remains poised to be in the low-20% range in 2026. That is also low enough to withstand the temporary downturns in non-GAAP diluted EPS that happen occasionally. This has SF positioned to build on its nine-year dividend growth streak for the foreseeable future.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

SF’s 1.7% dividend yield, 10.0% annual non-GAAP diluted EPS prospects, and a 0.6% annual valuation multiple upside potential could generate 12.1% annual total returns over the medium term. Thus, we’re reiterating our Buy rating.
