Overview & Current Events

Somnigroup International Inc. (SGI), founded through the 2012 Tempur-Pedic and Sealy merger and rebranded in 2025 after acquiring Mattress Firm, is a leading global bedding company based in Lexington, Kentucky. With a market cap near $15 billion and around 12,000 employees, SGI generates over $5 billion in annual revenue. It operates through Tempur Sealy North America, International, and Mattress Firm segments. Its broad retail and wholesale channels span more than 100 countries, combining legacy brands with strong omnichannel reach.

On May 7th, 2026, the company announced results for the first quarter of 2026. The company reported Q1 non-GAAP EPS of $0.59, beating analysts' estimates by $0.02 and revenue of $1.8 billion that were up 12.5% YoY.

Somnigroup International delivered a solid first quarter despite a challenging consumer environment, supported by the continued integration of Mattress Firm, expanding margins, and strong cash generation. Gross margin improved significantly as operational efficiencies, acquisition synergies, and lower product launch costs more than offset promotional investments at Mattress Firm. Adjusted operating income increased at a double-digit rate, reflecting disciplined cost management and stronger profitability across the business. International operations remained a bright spot, benefiting from robust demand in key markets and continued margin expansion, while the North American segment realized substantial profitability improvements through synergy capture and the elimination of intercompany sales following the Mattress Firm acquisition. The company also generated a record $246 million in operating cash flow during the quarter, highlighting the strength of its cash-generating capabilities.

Management reaffirmed its full-year 2026 outlook, reflecting confidence in the company's ability to navigate an uncertain macroeconomic backdrop while continuing to execute its integration strategy. The guidance assumes continued operational discipline despite potential headwinds from tariffs, trade policy changes, and broader economic uncertainty. During the quarter, Somnigroup also announced an agreement to acquire Leggett & Platt in an all-stock transaction valued at approximately $2.5 billion, further expanding its presence across the bedding and furniture supply chain. The transaction is expected to close by the end of 2026, subject to shareholder and regulatory approvals. In addition, the board declared a quarterly cash dividend of $0.17 per share, reinforcing management's commitment to returning capital to shareholders while pursuing long-term strategic growth opportunities.

Updated July 31st, 2026 by Ioannis Zourmpanos

Somnigroup's five-year growth looks solid, with revenue expected to climb 8% to 12% annually, boosted by Mattress Firm's integration and global expansion. Margins should improve modestly as scale efficiencies kick in. Despite recent share dilution, strong free cash flow supports steady dividends and likely buybacks.

We expect the company to post EPS of $3.20 in 2026, which is the midpoint of analysts' estimates. Also, we expect annual EPS growth of 10.0% over the next five years, leading to our estimated EPS of $5.15 by 2031. Moreover, the company has a growing record of paying dividends despite operating in a competitive healthcare sector, the company has paid an increasing dividend for the past six years. Thus, we expect the company to maintain its dividend growth and have forecasted a dividend CAGR of 8.0%, leading to a dividend of $1.00 in 2031.

Valuation Analysis

Year	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2025	Now	2031
Avg. P/E	19.86	23.02	32.33	15.34	7.38	5.45	7.40	18.43	13.27	39.94	20.9	20.0

The stock trades at a forward P/E of 20.9, higher than both the long-term average P/E of 18.2 and the five-year average P/E of 16.9. As expected rapid sales growth will benefit the company in the near term, we assign a P/E of 20.0 to the stock, which we feel is a fair reflection of its value. Accordingly, with expected EPS of $5.15 and P/E target of 20.0, our target price for the stock stands at $103 by 2031.

Safety, Quality, Competitive Advantage, & Recession Resiliency

Year	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2025	2026	2031
Payout	0%	0%	0%	0%	0%	10%	16%	21%	24%	33%	21%	19%

SGI's resiliency stems from its strong brand portfolio, diversified global channels, and scale that cushion it against economic swings. While bedding demand can soften during recessions, the company's broad product mix, from premium mattresses to value options, helps capture shifting consumer budgets. During the Great Recession, its legacy brands weathered the downturn better than many discretionary peers, and SGI's recent expansion further spreads risk across markets. Though leverage increased post-acquisition, healthy free cash flow and reasonable interest coverage provide a solid buffer.

Final Thoughts & Recommendation

While Somnigroup International runs a competitive bedding and sleep products business, successful integration and cost synergies from its Mattress Firm acquisition could further boost EPS growth. Indeed, SGI's healthy cash flow and disciplined payout ratio suggest its dividend growth prospects could stay solid for many years to come. Thus, we rate SGI as a hold premised upon the 9.9% annualized total returns for the long-term, derived from the forecasted earnings-per-share growth of 10.0%, the 1.0% dividend yield, and a valuation headwind.
